St. Emilion
1lnl
Bottle (8)
"Medium garnet-brick in color, the 2000 Angélus comes galloping out of the glass with a powerful nose of fragrant earth, damp soil, iron ore and cigar box over a core of prunes, blackberry jam and dried mulberries. Medium-bodied, the palate is elegantly styled with great freshness and loads of earth and mineral-inspired layers, framed by grainy tannins, finishing with a lingering menthol lift. It is in a sweet spot for drinking right now, although it should go on for another 15–20 years." (99 pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, The Wine Advocate, Oct. 2020)

"A wine of exquisite aromatic depth and grace, the 2000 Cheval Blanc is fully captivating. All the elements fall into place in an effortless, gracious wine. It's frankly hard to move past the 2000 Cheval, because at this point, I want nothing to compete with it." (100 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Oct. 2017)

Starting Bid: $1,700

3 Chateau Haut Brion 2000
Pessac-Leognan

Bottle (7)
"Superb and already immensely delicious, yet decidedly youthful and only beginning its evolution. The colour is dark, and the ripe plummy fruit resounds with notes of game, leather and spice. The rich texture is dense and ripe, with supple tannins and immense concentration and body. There is enough acidity to balance the wine and lead to a lingering, sensual finish. This epic wine for the ages should continue on the way up for another half-century. The blend is 51% Merlot, aged in 75% new barrels before bottling in June 2002." (97 pts. Charles Curtis MW, Decanter, July 2023)
Estimate: $4,000-$5,000

4 Chateau La Mission Haut Brion 2000

"Just beginning to fully blossom into truffles and crushed roses, still with the autumnal fruits cradled by firm but fine tannins. A thoroughly seductive wine, easy to fall into, at a great moment to drink, giving hints of tertiary while still walking the line. Jean-Bernard Delmas director." (97 pts. Jane Anson, June 2025)
Estimate: $3,250-$4,250
Starting Bid: $2,600

"The 2000 La Mission Haut-Brion is a vintage that I have not tasted for several years. At age 21, it has retained its youthful nose of vivid black cherries, wild strawberry and iodine, and shows less of the black olive tapenade element that I noticed in its youth. The palate is medium-bodied with lithe tannins that belie the backbone of this La Mission. Beautifully balanced and quite peppery, with fine salinity, it is less sauvage than many other millennial Bordeaux, leading to a succulent, sensual finish. This is only just beginning to show what it is capable of. 13.4% alcohol." (97 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, February 2020)

"The 2000 Lafite-Rothschild is deep in color. It has a beautifully defined bouquet of blackberry, cedar and mint, still quite closed but very focused. There is a lot of power here, but maybe not the same level of elegance as other vintages. The palate is medium-bodied with supple tannins, firm grip, very nicely judged acidity and good density on the finish. This is quite backward and muscular at the moment, although aeration/decanting shaves some of its edges. It's just beginning to open and improves with time in the glass." (97 pts. 10 Chateau Lafleur 2000
Pomerol
1lbsl
Bottle (2)
"The Château Lafleur 2000 is a monumental wine. Imagine a Harley Davidson thundering down the tarmac. Wouldn't you want to get on? It has an extremely intense, but ineffably pure nose with more mineral expression than the Lafleur 1995. It has loosened up a little since I last tasted it, but I concur with Robert Parker that if I were lucky enough to have some of these in my cellar, I would wait until 2020 to experience the wine at its plateau. Allowing the wine to open over 30 minutes, I notice an almost flinty scent developing on the bouquet. The palate is medium-bodied, crystalline and symmetrical—everything beautifully focused—almost Left Bank in texture. This had a firm backbone, but that is becoming more 'flexible' in recent years, and it fans out with consummate ease on a finish that is so long that it makes War and Peace seem like a short read. This is simply magnificent." (100 pts. Neal Martin, Wine Advocate, June 2016)

Starting Bid: $2,400

11 Chateau Latour 2000

"2000 saw a warm, dry July and August with a small amount of rain from mid-September onward. Composed of 77% Cabernet Sauvignon, 16% Merlot, 4% Cabernet Franc and 3% Petit Verdot, the 2000 Latour has a deep garnet color and is showing a good amount of evolution, sporting mature notes of fried exotic spices, hoisin, unsmoked cigars and fruitcake with hints of incense, potpourri, cast iron pan and charcuterie. Medium-bodied, soft, plush and savory in the mouth, it has a long, mineral-tinged finish. 14,000 cases were made this year, representing 48% of production." (97 pts. "The 2000 Latour is very deep in color. The nose is backward and demands coaxing from the glass, eventually revealing intense black fruit, cedar, graphite and very subtle Japanese nori aromas. The palate is medium-bodied with an arching structure that grips the mouth. The tannins are a little bolder than the 2001. This unfolds swirl by swirl, with hints of licorice emerging with time, and fanning out audaciously on the finish." (99 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, Sept. 2021)

"The 2000 Chateau Margaux remains one of the standouts of the millennial year. This bottle is consistent with the previous example. It's deep in color. The aromatics are intense and backward, opening with blackberry, crushed violet and pencil box scents with time, but there remains a sense of beguiling aloofness, as if you are so lucky to be in its presence, which you are. The palate has a large structure for the First Growth, yet there is a sense of pliancy with a multi-layered, very persistent, satin-textured finish. Divine." (99 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, Jan. 2023)

"Deep garnet colored with a touch of brick, the 2000 Mouton Rothschild (composed of 86% Cabernet Sauvignon and 14% Merlot) boldly bursts from the glass with tantalizing Black Forest cake, dried mulberries, kirsch and blackcurrant pastilles notes plus wafts of iodine, incense, potpourri and cinnamon stick with a hint of cigar boxes. Medium to full-bodied, the palate packs in the muscular fruit, framed by firm, ripe, grainy tannins and seamless freshness, finishing with phenomenal length. This is an incredibly complex and multifaceted wine, and it's drinking deliciously now. This said, I can't help but feel that it is holding something back, that it still has another layer of opulence and seduction to reveal in its tight-knit fruit and solid structure. I personally can't wait to see how this beauty will continue to unfold over the years to come." (97+ pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, Oct. 2019)

"A little more open than the other four Firsts in the vintage, with undergrowth, baked earth and gentle spice alongside the truffles, smoked caramel, spice and bilberry fruits. It shows plenty of the trademark Mouton generosity and ripe tannic structure and is lusciously textured. This came in at 80% 1st wine. It wasn't until Philippe Dhalluin arrived a few years later that production for the 1st wine would be lowered, with significantly more Petit Mouton being made (Lafite and Latour both closer to 50% 1st wine for similar sized estates). That's not to say that you won't be thrilled to open and drink this wine, and it will undoubtedly show that same stubborn unwillingness to fade away that the First Growths all share. 100% new oak." "This bottle of 1971 Petrus is perhaps the best that I have encountered, completely overawing the 1970 served alongside. It boasts a gorgeous bouquet with delineated red berry fruit, pressed rose petals, hints of kirsch and a touch of sandalwood, perhaps even a little exotic compared to previous bottles. The palate is medium-bodied with seductive fleshiness on the entry, a surfeit of black truffle infused red fruit and life-affirming purity. Unlike other bottles, this example seems to meliorate with aeration, gaining intensity and depth towards the precise and tender finish." (97 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, Jan. 2019)

"Displaying a gorgeous deep amber-gold color, the 1967 d'Yquem slips sensuously out of the glass with a profound perfume of dried mandarin peel, allspice, praline, cinnamon toast and orange blossoms plus hints of gingerbread and accents of lemon butter. The palate is simply electric with citrus and spice-sparked energy, delivering youthfully vibrant notes with a tantalizing floral undercurrent. Superb freshness knit inseparably with the complex sweetness makes this seem like a deceptively delicate, lithe, medium-dry style, even if the truth is far richer yet with edifying persistence. For Sauternes lovers, a perfectly preserved bottle of this wine is undoubtedly the Holy Grail." (99 pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, Aug. 2019)

"Just weeks after tasting the 2001 Chateau d'Yquem at the estate, another bottle was served at a lunch in London and it was perfection. The aromatics are practically identical and likewise the palate, but this bottle, which had been decanted, displays a scintilla more tension, perhaps more "vibrancy" that so effortlessly counterbalances the richness. Irrespective of points, it is simply one of the most magnificent wines of any kind that can pass your lips." (100 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, June 2021)

"An impressively complex nose offers up aromas of rose petals, violets, mint, cassis, black berry and a plethora of spice nuances. There is excellent intensity and power to the imposingly constructed medium weight plus flavors that are blessed with plenty of dry extract that renders the still firm tannic spine almost invisible on the impeccably well-balanced and palate staining finish. Not surprisingly at only 10 years of age, this is still very much on the way up and while it actually could be enjoyed now with an hour of air, I would be inclined to continue to hold it for another 7 to 10 years first. I have also tasted several other examples that have shown similarly if not quite as fresh while meriting scores of between 93 and 94 points." (95 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, March 2019)

Like most '96s today, there is outstanding intensity, vibrancy and delineation if not especially good density on the lingering finish that evidences traces of both warmth and dryness though neither are fatal to the overall sense of balance." "Bright purple. A highly perfumed, and highly expressive, nose reflects a plethora of spice and floral elements that include hints of orange peel, exotic tea and sandalwood wisps. The succulent and beautifully seductive middle weight flavors possess unusually good density for the vintage while displaying excellent length on the moderately austere, balanced and stylish finish. While still very young, the 2017 RC is built more for mid-term keeping and to that end, if one were to choose a vintage to perhaps open on the younger side, this would be one to possibly consider. In sum, this is an RC of finesse and undeniable class." (95 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, April 2022)

"This is more restrained still though aggressive swirling eventually coaxes the gorgeously broad-ranging nose to reveal an even more floral and spicier mélange of red and dark currant, Asian-style tea, anise, clove, cinnamon and sandalwood scents. The equally pure, naturally sweet, precise and beautifully detailed medium-bodied flavors maintain their focus from the mid-palate to the dazzlingly long and palate staining linear finish that just goes on and on. However, as silky as the palate impression is, there is plenty of supporting structure and this too is going to require a long snooze in a cold cellar before it will be completely ready for prime time. Textbook RSV." (96 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Jan. 2018)

"Mild bricking though with a ruby core. There is ample sous-bois present on the spicy, earth, game and leather suffused nose that leads to rich, dense and powerful medium weight plus flavors that display very fine complexity on the still tannic and notably rustic finish. The balance isn't perfect but I very much like the overall depth. I doubt that this is going to soften materially and actually risks drying out if held too long so I would suggest serving this with the proper foods to help buffer the still firm structure." (91 pts. "Here there is no reductive funk as the nose offers up notably spicy aromas of black cherry, cassis, Asian-style tea and a whiff of herbal tea. I very much like the intensity of the sleek middle weight flavors that are more muscular than they usually are while delivering excellent length on the backward finish. This is also more structured than it usually is, indeed it's borderline chewy, and is going to require extended keeping if you wish to see it at its peak." (95 pts. "A highly expressive, indeed even explosive nose offers up wonderfully pure spice and menthol-infused black cherry fruit aromas that complement elegant, sexy and beautifully refined medium-weight flavors that are underpinned by velvet wrapped tannins and stunning persistence. Though this is not what I would call a dense wine, it has a finish that lasts for minutes and exudes energy and vibrancy plus the impeccable balance should permit the '99 Musigny to drink well for a long, long time. A terrific wine that clearly is still on its way up so assuming that you have well-stored bottles, there should be no concern about missing the prime drinking window. All of that said, this could be enjoyed now with 30 minutes or so of air and the right food. I have multiple, and consistent, notes." (95 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, July 2015)

Bottle (3)
"The 2005 is incredibly youthful at age ten, although certainly drinkable. And who wouldn't consume it if they had the opportunity? It will benefit from another 5-10 years of cellaring and certainly has 30 or more years left in its evolutionary curve. Gorgeous, and tasting akin to a hypothetical Pauillac blended with a great Pessac-Léognan from Bordeaux comes to mind because of the smoky, subtle barbecue notes, fruitcake, forest floor, graphite and minerality. The wine has stunning fruit and a full-bodied, powerful richness, yet is still nimble on its feet. This is a classic Napa Cabernet Sauvignon from an absolutely magnificent hillside vineyard in the Mayacamas Mountains overlooking the Oakville corridor on the valley floor. This opaque, garnet/purple wine is another tour de force and, once again, proves that Harlan Estate is not only one of the greatest wines of California, but of the world." (98+ pts. "The 2013 Harlan Estate is flat-out stunning. Dark, ample and explosive, with tremendous freshness, the 2013 has aged spectacularly. Black cherry, plum, chocolate, spice, espresso, leather and new oak infuse the 2013 with captivating depth. The 2013 shows just how much the Harlan house style has evolved in less than a decade." "The deep garnet-purple colored 2014 Harlan Estate offers up subtle cassis, black cherries and crushed blackberries notes with tons of savory and earthy layers: forest floor, black soil, charcoal and dried herbs, plus wafts of violets and rare beef. Full-bodied and built like a brick house in the mouth, it has loads of tense, muscular fruit with many layers of earth, savory and spice nuances emerging, finishing with epic length." (98 pts. "A wine of restraint and sensuality, the 2014 Harlan Estate is wonderfully transparent in feel. Time in the glass brings out a compelling interplay of beautifully layered fruit and lifted aromatics. The 2014 is one of the most understated yet energetic young vintages of Harlan Estate I can remember tasting. Readers who have not tasted Harlan Estate is a few years might be taken aback by just how sophisticated and nuanced the 2014 is. This is a superb effort." (98 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Dec. 2017)

"Deep garnet-purple in color, the 2017 Harlan Estate needs a little coaxing to reveal captivating iron ore, red currant jelly, cloves and crushed rocks scents with a core of warm cassis, Black Forest cake and boysenberries plus a waft of pencil lead. Medium to full-bodied, it has a firm, grainy texture with a lively backbone and loads of earthy layers, long and mineral laced. This should be one of the longer-lived wines coming out of the 2017 vintage." (97+ pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, Jan. 2021)

46 Harlan Estate Cabernet Sauvignon 2018

Magnum (1)
"The 2018 Harlan Estate is deep, plush and full of potential. But potential is the key word here, as the 2018 is also very reticent today. Its depth, power and pedigree are all obviously apparent. It is an atypical wine for Napa, as the acids, tannin and structure are all pretty prominent. Hints of black cherry, gravel, spice, menthol and lavender gradually open with some coaxing. The 2018 is a remarkable wine. I remember tasting it for the first time in Spring 2019, when it came across as a bit light. Perhaps that was a reflection of early blending and a wine that had not bounced back from that. Since then, the 2018 has gained in richness and volume, while retaining the finessed style that is such a signature here these days." (98+ pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, October 2021)

"The head-spinning 2019 Harlan Estate is truly amazing stuff. Gentle cedar notes lead into layered dark chocolate and cassis, somehow impossibly rich yet savory. Full-bodied, concentrated and supple, this is dense, packed with flavor but seemingly weightless, with a lush, lingering finish that combines intensity with freshness to compel sip after sip. Like all truly great wines, it's full of somehow harmonious contradictions." (100 pts. Joe Czerwinski, Wine Advocate, March 2023)

"The aromas are subtle yet enticing with lavender and rose petal notes. So aromatic and perfumed. Lots of currants and hints of spearmint. Chanel No. 5? Medium-bodied with super fine tannins that run the length of the wine with crunchy tannins that are energetic and vivid. It grows and grows and turns almost flamboyant. Goes on for minutes with a compressed and vibrant finish. Mostly cabernet sauvignon with some cabernet franc and a tiny percent of merlot and petit verdot. Drink it now to love and understand the potential. But it will age beautifully. Try after 2030." (100 pts. James Suckling, Feb. 2024)

"The 2022 Harlan Estate is a very sexy wine. A burst of dark red and purplish fruit makes a strong first impression that shapes the generous entry and mid-palate. A wine with no hard edges and exceptional balance, the 2022 has developed beautifully. Red cherry/plum fruit, blood orange, baking spices, and lavender unfurl effortlessly. The 2022 is an exuberant Harlan Estate that will drink well with minimal cellaring. It's sure to be a huge crowd-pleaser." (97 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Nov. 2025)

"Deep garnet-purple, the 2016 Promontory comes barreling out of the glass with bold scents of black cherries, blueberry pie and licorice, leading to a slowly emerging core of crème de cassis, dark chocolate, black soil and truffles plus touches of cumin seed, mossy bark and beef drippings. The full-bodied palate is densely packed with muscular fruit, backed by a rock-solid structure of very firm, exquisitely ripe, grainy tannins and fantastic tension. The finish is both powerful and beautifully nuanced, hedonic and cerebrally gratifying." (100 pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, Jan. 2021)

"The 2018 Promontory is 100% Cabernet Sauvignon; the estate has some Cabernet Franc planted, but it hasn't yet been utilized in the blend. Scents of crushed mint, ripe cherries and river stones mingle easily on the nose, while the medium to full-bodied palate is tense and fresh. This has what is fashionably described as "tension" in spades, then finishes long and silky. Give it some time in the cellar, and my rating my look stingy in a decade." (95 pts. Wonderfully creamy and sweet but with firm structure underlying its black cherry, loam, mineral, tobacco and licorice flavors. Very concentrated, structured wine with excellent delineation and beautifully refined, building tannins. Finishes quite subtle and long, with a lingering black cherry taste and excellent delineation. 1973 Chateau Montelena: A Personal Connection to History

The Winning Chardonnay of the 1976 Judgment of Paris

My introduction to Chateau Montelena was back in the early 1990's during my tenure in the hotel business, where I established my love of wine.

After meeting Bo Barrett, winemaker at the time, I fell in love with the wine and story. My relationship with Bo, his family, and the Montelena team continued to grow.

When I had an opportunity in the 90's for me to personally acquire two bottles of the famed 1973 Chardonnay I did not hesitate to jump. In the late 90's, the hotel I worked at hosted a Chateau Montelena dinner with Bo as host. I donated one of these bottles for the attendees to taste a moment in history. It did not disappoint; in fact, it exceeded everyone's expectations. I decided to hang on to the last bottle.

Fast forward to 2009, Bo had asked if I would join the team at Montelena, which I did. Over these 17 years, I've had the good fortune to meet everyone involved with the Judgment, and to have them sign this bottle for me.

Getting Jim and Bo Barrett was easy of course. My longstanding friendship with Mike Grgich was next. George Taber would come to the winery every year to sign his books. I've gotten to know George over these years, and even visited his family on a trip to New England. Steven Spurrier was at the winery during the 40th anniversary celebrations in May of 2016.

While I've cherished owning this unique piece of history, I think it's time to pass on it's stewardship to someone who will appreciate the heritage and depth this bottle brings in changing the course of the American wine industry.

George Blanckensee, CSW
Estate Director

My history with Chateau Montelena began just weeks into my auction career, when I was treated to a vertical of Cabernet Sauvignon stretching back to 1974. The 1991 Estate Cabernet has been a pet wine of mine ever since, and I can scarcely recall a time in the ensuing 30 years when I didn't have a couple of bottles on hand for emergencies. Despite a career spent tasting just about everything under the sun, Montelena has remained a staple of my diet. And while countless estates have raced toward extravagant release prices, Montelena has remained a model of quiet, affordable luxury—all the quality, none of the pretense.

This bottle represents everything I admire about the estate, with an extraordinary measure of historical significance. Arguably the most important bottle of American Chardonnay ever produced, it is the wine that helped catapult Napa Valley onto the world stage at the 1976 Judgment of Paris. Bearing the signatures of five figures associated with that historic tasting, it comes directly from George Blanckensee, Chateau Montelena's longtime Estate Director, accompanied by a video from Bo Barrett himself attesting to its condition and authenticity. At George's request, Heritage will donate 100% of the buyer's premium to the American Cancer Society, adding a particularly meaningful purpose to an already remarkable offering.

If you're ever going to own a piece of wine history, I cannot imagine a better opportunity to acquire one with this degree of provenance and integrity.
Very, very cool.

The Roots Fund Collective

Great Wines. Shared Purpose. A Lasting Impact.

Wine has always been about more than what is in the bottle. It is a celebration of people, place, tradition, and the shared experiences that bring us together. Equally important is ensuring that the next generation has the opportunity to become part of that story.

For our December Signature Sale, Heritage Auctions is proud to present a special collection of wines consigned in support of The Roots Fund. Bringing together some of the world's most celebrated estates, including Domaine Dujac, Domaine Arnoux-Lachaux, and Château Lafite Rothschild, alongside distinguished private collectors, this offering represents an extraordinary gathering of great wines united by a common purpose.

Of particular significance are the winery-direct consignments, offering collectors an exceptional level of provenance. These celebrated wines come directly from the estates themselves, having been carefully preserved in their original winery cellars. Among them are rare treasures, including wines making their first appearance at auction. Such opportunities to acquire wines of this caliber, directly from their source, are truly rare.

The Roots Fund is dedicated to creating opportunities for individuals from underrepresented communities within the wine industry. Through education, mentorship, and career development, the organization is helping open doors and build a more inclusive future for the next generation of wine professionals.

In recognition of this important mission, Heritage Auctions will donate a portion of its proceeds from these consignments to The Roots Fund. The participation of these producers and private collectors reflects a shared belief that supporting the future of wine can go hand in hand with celebrating its greatest achievements.

We are deeply grateful to the wineries and collectors who have come together to make this initiative possible. Their participation offers collectors an opportunity to acquire highly coveted wines while contributing to something that extends well beyond the auction room.

Great wine is built on generations of knowledge, passion, and dedication. Together, we can help ensure that its future is just as extraordinary as it's past.

Château Lafite Rothschild: A Legacy Preserved

From the historic cellars of Château Lafite Rothschild comes a distinguished offering of three legendary vintages, personally selected by Saskia de Rothschild in support of The Roots Fund. Few estates can claim such an extraordinary continuity of stewardship, with the Rothschild family having carefully preserved bottles from nearly every vintage produced.

As Saskia reflects, of the vintages produced under her family's ownership, fewer than ten are missing from the estate's distinguished library. Growing up, she came to understand Lafite through the stories told by her father, Baron Éric de Rothschild, who brought each vintage to life with its own distinct personality and character. This deeply personal connection to the wines remains central to the family's philosophy and its commitment to preserving Lafite's heritage for future generations.

For this special offering, Saskia has chosen three notable vintages: 1961, 1982, and 1996. Each represents a distinct chapter in the estate's history, from the extraordinary concentration and rarity of 1961 to the generosity of the celebrated 1982 and the remarkable evolution of 1996. Together, they offer collectors a rare opportunity to explore the enduring character of Lafite across decades.

Every bottle comes directly from the château's own cellar, where these wines have been carefully preserved under the estate's stewardship since their creation. Such provenance is exceptional, particularly for mature vintages of this significance, offering collectors a rare opportunity to acquire some of Bordeaux's most revered wines directly from their source.

We extend our sincere gratitude to Saskia de Rothschild and Château Lafite Rothschild for their generous support of The Roots Fund. The family's commitment to preserving its history through generations finds a natural connection with the organization's mission to create opportunities for those who will shape the future of wine. A fitting tribute to the enduring importance of both heritage and progress.

"At the moment, this is our favourite. But it wasn't always that way. Right after harvest, many wondered whether the vintage would amount to anything at all, and some even declared it doomed because of the rain. At Lafite, it turned out to be one of our greatest successes. It's the kind of wine that seems to drink itself, with an endlessly fascinating bouquet ranging from Vicks VapoRub to the wild herbs and scrubland of southern France made famous by Marcel Pagnol. That same year, Andy Goldsworthy was creating land art in our vineyards using autumn leaves, the Spice Girls released their first album... and Lafite quietly produced a truly great vintage." Domaine Arnoux-Lachaux: A Rare Glimpse into the Past

From the historic cellars of Domaine Arnoux-Lachaux comes a remarkable selection of rare Burgundy, personally curated by Charles Lachaux in support of The Roots Fund. Spanning vintages dating back to 1971, this landmark offering provides collectors with a rare opportunity to explore the domaine's history through wines that have remained in its own cellars for decades, many of which have seldom been available to collectors.

Of particular significance are the older vintages produced during the tenure of Robert Arnoux, Charles' grandfather, whose influence continues to shape the philosophy of the domaine today. As Charles himself reflects, these wines represent an important part of the estate's heritage, offering a window into earlier generations of winemaking while remaining a source of inspiration for its future.

The collection features some of Burgundy's most coveted appellations, including Clos de Vougeot, Échezeaux, and Romanée-Saint-Vivant, with prized mature vintages and rare large formats. Every bottle comes directly from the domaine's own cellar, offering impeccable provenance and an opportunity to acquire wines of remarkable historical significance.

We are sincerely grateful to Charles Lachaux and Domaine Arnoux-Lachaux for their thoughtful participation in support of The Roots Fund. These carefully preserved wines offer a fascinating glimpse into the domaine's past, while their release reflects a commitment to the future of the wine industry. It is a meaningful connection between generations of winemaking and the opportunities being created for those who will follow.

"Initially, there was a touch of funk that required some 15 minutes or so to completely dissipate but after that a still youthful nose of moderate secondary fruit notes nuanced by spice, earth and game hints, all of which are reflected by the solidly powerful and concentrated medium full-bodied flavors underpinned by still evident structure and excellent length. If there is a nit, it's that this is not as complex as one might hope for given the quality of the vintage and the format. For my taste, this has just reached the front edge of drinkability though it could easily be held for another two decades with perhaps a few years of possible upside development and certainly more softening of the finishing structure." "The medium to dark ruby-colored 1999 Clos Vougeot, produced from 35-40 hectoliters per hectare yields, has a superb nose of super-ripe cherries, Asian spices, violets, and perfume. It is medium-bodied, sexy, and opulent. Copious quantities of sur-maturite-laced cherries, raspberries, and strawberries can be found throughout this sweet, penetrating, and lively wine. It has no hard edges to its seamless, full-flavored character." (94 pts. Pierre Rovani, Wine Advocate, Aug. 2001)

"Moderate wood sets off ripe and intensely earthy aromas of red berries and plum that precede the rich, supple and relatively accessible middle weight flavors where very firm tannins provide structure and shape to the impressively long finish. Clos de Vougeot is often quite austere in its youth and while there is a trace, there is less than usual. Note that this will require patience." (91–93 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Jan. 2011)

"I hadn't tried this since 2007 and it really hasn't changed all that much save for the fact that this bottle was annoyingly reduced whereas what is typically present is a seductively spicy and fully mature nose that displays a bit of sous-bois. There is still good intensity to moderately tannic middle weight flavors that possess good concentration and impressive complexity on the velvety finish that delivers very good if not truly sensational persistence. This RSV is holding well though I would be inclined to drink it over the next 5ish years as I sense that a decline is not too far away. Tasted multiple times over the years with consistent results." "The 1971 Vosne-Romanée Les Suchots 1er Cru is clear in color with modest bricking. The heavenly bouquet is exquisitely defined, offering vestiges of red berry fruit intermingled with bay leaf, undergrowth, tea leaf and a hint of balsamic. The palate is not powerful and arguably lacks the substance of the very best Côtes de Nuits from this vintage, yet there remains a sense of energy and nervosité that is extremely appealing. Slightly tart in style, featuring a refreshing sour cherry note mixed with soy and seaweed on the finish. A delightful Les Suchots that continues to give pleasure." (93 pts. A highly expressive and wonderfully elegant nose features notes of sous-bois, spice, earth and secondary fruit aromas that merge gracefully into seductive caramel suffused flavors that also reflect spicy undertones, all wrapped in a rich, full and sweet finish that seems to go on and on. Arnoux is the undisputed reference standard for this vineyard and it shows that even 30 years ago, the quality that one sees today is not an accident. A superb showing and this is sufficiently well constructed that it should continue to drink well for years. Tasted twice recently with consistent notes though a third bottle tasted in November 2017 was much less interesting as the finish was distinctly drying." (94 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Nov. 2017)

"The deep color of the Vosne-Romanee-Les Suchots suggests superb extraction and concentration. The nose offers expansive, sweet aromas of roasted nuts, herbs, and toast, accompanied by lavish quantities of jammy black-cherry and black-raspberry fruit. A rich, full-bodied, remarkably concentrated wine, it exhibits surprisingly sweet, soft tannin. In a blind tasting one would think this is a great 1990, not a 1991. Delicious now, and already revealing considerable complexity, this wine should continue to drink well for another decade." (92 pts. Robert Parker, Wine Advocate, Dec. 1993)

Domaine Dujac:
An Extraordinary Offering from the Estate

From one of Burgundy's most revered domaines comes a prized collection of wines consigned directly from Domaine Dujac in support of The Roots Fund. Jeremy Seysses, a passionate supporter of the organization's mission, has assembled a remarkable selection that offers collectors a rare glimpse into the estate's treasured cellar.

Spanning vintages dating back to 1995, the collection includes wines from the era of the domaine's legendary founder, Jacques Seysses, alongside more recent vintages that reflect the continued excellence of the next generation. The offering features an exceptional selection of large formats, including Bonnes-Mares and Clos de la Roche in jeroboam, alongside a rare vertical of Romanée-Saint-Vivant exclusively in magnum. Many of these wines were never commercially released, while others have never before appeared at auction.

Our heartfelt thanks go to Jeremy Seysses and Domaine Dujac for making this historic offering possible in support of The Roots Fund. By sharing wines rarely seen beyond the domaine's own cellar, they have created a special opportunity for collectors while contributing to a cause dedicated to opening doors within the wine industry. A generous gesture that speaks to the spirit of both the domaine and the wider wine community.

"A gorgeously scented nose offers up layered aromas of spice, earth, tea, sandalwood, wild flowers and black currant. There is an unusually refined mouth feel to the focused, intense and sleekly muscular flavors that possess equally good depth while delivering flat out superb length on the impeccably well-balanced finale. This is still very much on the way up but it is so harmonious and pretty that it could be enjoyed for its nose alone. That said, this is a very serious effort that should peak in the range of 7 to 10 years from now and then be capable of holding for 3 to 4 decades thereafter. In a word, wonderful." (96 pts. "The 1995 is now mature, with abundant, concentrated aromas of ripe, plummy fruit accented with notes of forest floor, game and truffle. However, nothing is over the top – this wine is expressing its full potential. The texture on the palate is holding well, tannic and firm. This is drinking superbly well right now; it is not showing any sign of falling off, and should hold for years to come." (96 pts. Charles Curtis MW, Decanter, May 2024)

"Mostly bricked through. This evolved slowly for many years though it has finally arrived at its peak with its layered and overtly floral nose of tea and secondary fruit aromas that possess impressive complexity though there is a curious background note of spearmint gum. The focused, intense and beautifully well-detailed medium-bodied flavors also offer excellent depth on the solidly persistent finish. Like most '96s this is not nearly as dense as it usually is and while a bit lighter in style the balance is much better than the typical '96 as the acidity does not unduly dry or lean out the finish. For my taste, this pretty but not powerful effort is drinking perfectly now as there is no additional upside development to be had. Note: I have experienced some mild inconsistency with this wine though in general my scores have not varied much and most bottles have merited between 92 and 94 points." (93 pts. "Still deep ruby color. A highly perfumed and ultra-floral nose offers up notes of spice, earth and tea on the still almost entirely primary nose where a hint of the sauvage appears. There is a relatively refined mouth feel to the highly energetic, well-detailed and solidly mineral-driven medium weight plus flavors that possess a sleek muscularity on the superbly long and strikingly complex finale. This is one of those wines that even though it is still years away from its peak it is so well-balanced that it could easily be enjoyed now with 30 or so minutes in a carafe first. That said I would be inclined to allow this at least another 5 years of cellar time and 10 to 12 is likely to be closer to the optimum. Tasted several times with consistent notes. In a word, brilliant." (96 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Nov. 2017)

"I have tried this now four times since my original review. A bottle in 2013 displayed an annoying level of brett whereas bottles tasted in 2016, 2017 and 2019 were pristine while displaying a really lovely nose of floral, spice, earth and still wonderfully fresh red berry fruit aromas that possess only a trace of secondary character. There is equally good freshness to the vibrant, detailed and focused medium weight plus flavors that exhibit excellent depth and length on the strikingly long finish. This is an impressive wine that is clearly still on the way up yet it's sufficiently pliant that it could be enjoyed now. As an aside, I would point out that the 2013 example was tasted side by side with the 2002 Clos St. Denis (see herein), which also displayed an overwhelming amount of brett character that was even worse than the Clos de la Roche. Note that while this could certainly be enjoyed now there is still some unrealized potential so I would advise continuing to hold." (94 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, June 2019)

"Rich and showing quite a lot of maturity on the nose, this has a character of wet, autumn leaves combined with intense, sweet, dark fruits. Cool and elegant on the nose and palate, there is great use of oak with a powerful structure to balance the fleshy, concentrated and dense palate. Tannins are smooth, ripe and silky, leading to a long, fine and restrained finish. Will age further." (96 pts. Andy Howard MW, Decanter, Nov. 2019)

"An unusually expressive nose features notes of both red and dark berry fruit and plenty of spice aromas that are attractively fresh and pure. There is equally good purity to the delicious, round and notably supple middle weight flavors that possess good detail and punch before tightening up on the balanced and lingering finish. This is a wine of finesse and class that should age well and if it can add depth over the next 8 to 10 years my score may ultimately prove to be too conservative." (93 pts. "A pure, elegant and very spicy nose willingly offers up notes of cool red currant, raspberry, plum, exotic tea and an interesting hint of orange peel. The delicious, intense and tension-filled middle weight flavors possess better acid/fruit/tannin balance and this is particularly evident on the ever-so-mildly rustic finish due to the raspy structure. Even so, I suspect that this will round out with a few years of bottle age. In sum, this too is perfectly OK but it would be fair to observe that it's not at its usual lofty level." (91–93 pts. Schloss Johannisberg: A Celebration of Great Riesling

From one of Germany's most historic and revered wine estates comes this exceptional selection of Schloss Johannisberg Rieslings, presented by a wine industry insider with close ties to the estate in support of The Roots Fund. Sourced directly from the winery and maintained in professional temperature- and humidity-controlled storage in the United States, the wines were delivered directly to Heritage for this auction, offering impeccable provenance and careful stewardship.

The collection showcases the breadth of Riesling, from the precision and elegance of the estate's dry wines to the richness and extraordinary aging potential of its celebrated Spätlese, Beerenauslese, and Trockenbeerenauslese. Featuring rare selections alongside recent vintages, this offering reflects the enduring legacy of Schloss Johannisberg and its place among the world's great Riesling producers.

We thank Schloss Johannisberg and the consignor for coming together in support of The Roots Fund. Their participation brings some of Germany's most distinguished Rieslings to this special offering, combining a rich winemaking tradition with a shared commitment to broadening opportunities within the wine industry. An occasion to celebrate great wine while supporting a meaningful cause.

Bottle (1)
"The NV Schloss Johannisberg Ex Bibliotheca Cuvée 100 Spätlese combines the finest Spätlese bottlings between 1915 and 2011, which add up to 36 vintages. This golden-yellow beauty opens with a clear, precise and elegant Spätlese bouquet that represents all the class and potential of the Schloss Johannisberg. It is pure, deep, intense and elegant and as flinty and floral as it is fruity and most of all elegant and beautifully balanced. This is an irresistible wine with an immaculate texture and highly stimulating salinity and mineral grip. Honey, white nougat and apricot flavors populate the palate and the finish, and the wine is intense in a very elegant and mouth-coating yet weightless way. It is rich but refined and elegant, vital and refreshing and to be enjoyed in large sips. The wine is moderately sweet, and the finish is intense and very long. Ripe and juicy apricots and morel/porcini notes make this a savory gastronomic wine that is immediately great and unique in style. How can we rate it? It has remarkable finesse and savoriness with lovely tropical fruit aromas, and it's very harmonious and a true representative of the glorious Schloss Johannisberg." (96 pts. Goldlack, Schloss Johannisberg 12ogb
Bottle (12)
"Sourced in the south/southwest-exposed lieux-dits Urban-Wingert, Langenberg and Mäuerchen Quer and sold exclusively via the Place de Bordeaux, the intensely yellow-colored 2021 Schloss Johannisberg Goldlack Riesling Trocken (not the GG Silberlack) represents the qualitative top of the dry Rieslings of the winery. After the manual harvest of the berries during the first nine days of October and after 48 hours of maceration, the must was gently pressed and fermented in 1,200-liter oak stücks made from the family's own forest and a few smaller barrels. The wine matured for 24 months on the fine lees in the nine-meter-deep Bibliotheca Subterranea cellar at 10.5 degrees Celsius before being bottled in February 2024. Coming from a cooler and rainier year, the 2021 offers a deep, pure, intense and elegant nose of ripe yellow fruits but also black and blue berries intertwined with yeasty and flinty notes and nuances of heath and mint. Full-bodied, intense and saline on the palate, this is a distinctively ripe and juicy as well as mineral, very elegant and savory, intense and seriously structured dry Riesling with a very long, complex and aromatic as well as finely tannic and lemon-bitter finish. It has remarkable acidity (of 8.2 grams per liter). 13% stated alcohol. Natural cork. Tasted in early July and again at the domaine at the end of August 2024. The wine will be available from 21 October of this year, and it is best served in a wide Burgundy or Bordeaux glass, where its intensity is even more intensified and its texture significantly smoother." (96+ pts. Stephan Reinhardt, Wine Advocate, Oct. 2024)
Estimate: $2,000-$2,600
Starting Bid: $1,600

154 Riesling Trockenbeerenauslese 2023
Blaulack, Schloss Johannisberg
Half-Bottle (18)
"Picked on Sunday October 1 after the harvest team had already been sent home, the golden/apricot-colored 2023 Schloss Johannisberg Blaulack Riesling Trockenbeerenauslese shows a super intense and concentrated, spicy and flinty bouquet with apricot, honey and white nougat and the finest champignon notes intermingled with refreshing iodine notes of the Schloss Johannisberg terroir. Sourced in a lower part where the vines are raised on cordon, this is a viscous, seamless and vivacious, crystalline, saline and precise TBA with a spectacularly sharp laser sword of acidity of 17 grams per liter. Bottled with 6.5% stated alcohol and 270 grams per liter of residual sugar, this is a rich and intense, very concentrated yet finessed and even uplifted TBA made for eternity." (99 pts. Stephan Reinhardt, Wine Advocate, Oct. 2024)
Estimate: $4,500-$6,000
Starting Bid: $3,500

The Pinnacle Collection

A further offering from the celebrated Pinnacle Collection, previously featured in Heritage's 2025 and 2026 auctions, comes this notable selection of wines from some of the world's most revered estates. Assembled over decades through trusted relationships and acquired directly from the wineries, the collection reflects a discerning eye for quality, rarity, and impeccable provenance.

Every bottle has been maintained in professional temperature- and humidity-controlled storage before being delivered directly to Heritage's warehouse for this auction. Featuring some of the most coveted names in fine wine, many bottles and original cases remain in pristine condition, as reflected in the accompanying condition notes. An exciting continuation of a collection defined by pedigree, provenance, and passion.

Bottle (9)
"The 2023 Figeac is outrageously great. Dark, layered and explosive in the glass, the 2023 possesses mind-blowing intensity and pure power. Hints of lavender, crème de cassis, sage, menthol, spice box and pipe tobacco soar from the glass. Brisk acids and vibrant saline notes frame the close. All the elements are so artfully woven together. Absolutely nothing is out of place. Figeac is very clearly one of the wines of the vintage. The 2023 is also one of the finest wines ever made here. Merlots were picked starting September 6, while the Cabernets were harvested from September 26 to October 5, a very late finish. General Manager Frédéric Faye and his team turned out an extraordinary wine. Tasted two times." (100 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, March 2026)
Estimate: $1,100-$1,400
Starting Bid: $850

156 Chateau La Fleur Petrus 2017
Pomerol
2 banded owc
Bottle (12)
"The 2017 La Fleur-Pétrus has a very detailed and precise bouquet, retaining the mixture of red and black fruit that it showed out of barrel, developing that faint estuarine/brine scent that lends it personality as it opens in the glass. The palate is medium-bodied with supple tannins, a fine bead of acidity, light spiced with a sprinkling of cracked black pepper and bay leaf over the persistent finish. This is an excellent Pomerol and it should give at least two decades of drinking pleasure." (94 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, Sept. 2019)
Estimate: $1,500-$2,000

"Smooth and supple, a nice energy and focus to this, clean and clear with a lovely purity and finesse. Lots of red berry fruit, just ripe, almost on the tangy sour side but stays in the right place, giving a good, wide mouthful without feeling too heavy or dense or pushed. Clear and racy with nicely gripping tannins and lots of fresh mint, menthol and wet stone on the finish. Tension, focus and drive, I'd like to see how this evolves. Excellent potential." (95 pts. "The 2022 La Fleur-Pétrus is a heady, explosive wine that very much reflects the personality of the year. Inky dark fruit, truffle, cloves, licorice and blood orange are some of the many notes that infuse the palate with tremendous depth all around. A light exotic touch informs the long finish. The 2022 is very much an extrovert. There's no doubt about it. This is a very complete and delicious Pomerol from the Moueix family." (96 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Jan. 2025)

Bottle (6)
"The 2022 Léoville Las Cases is just as remarkable in bottle as it was from barrel. Wafting from the glass with aromas of beautifully pure cassis fruit mingled with notions of violets, burning embers and subtle cigar box, it has already almost entirely integrated its new oak. Full-bodied, dense and layered, it's deep and resonant, with striking concentration, precision and harmony, concluding with a long, palate-staining finish. This striking Saint-Julien really is one of the wines of the vintage, and the best young Léoville Las Cases I've ever tasted." (100 pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, March 2025)
Estimate: $1,100-$1,400
Starting Bid: $850

162 Chateau Margaux 2022
Margaux
Bottle (3)
"The 2022 Château Margaux is almost stentorian on the nose, very Pauillac in style, complex and beautifully defined with layers of black fruit, tobacco and a dash of graphite. The palate is medium-bodied with filigree tannins. Perfectly balanced, poised and persistent, with incredible mineralité and purity towards the satin-textured finish. Potentially the wine of the vintage." (99 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, Jan. 2026)
Estimate: $1,300-$1,700
Starting Bid: $1,000

163 Chateau Montrose 2022
St. Estephe
owc
Bottle (6)
"From barrel, I wrote that 2022 Montrose was so compelling that assigning it a bracketed score seemed a mere formality, and so it has proven. Unwinding in the glass with a deep and brooding bouquet of cassis, wild blueberries, violets, pencil shavings and burning embers, it's full-bodied, deep and dense, somehow marrying all the tannic authority that has long been such a signature of Montrose with a suavity and purity that represents the quintessence of contemporary Bordeaux. The broad, palate-staining finish lasts for more than a minute. This is a profound young wine that readers aren't going to want to miss." (100 pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, March 2025)
Estimate: $700-$900
Starting Bid: $550

164 L'if 2023
St. Emilion
2 banded owc
Bottle (12)
"The 2023 L'If is powerful, deep and beautifully layered. Blue/black fruit, new leather, licorice and cedar soar from the glass. A broad, ample wine with huge tannins, the 2023 appears to be destined for a long life. Time in the glass brings out hints of graphite and dried herbs that add complexity and a good bit of gravitas, too. Give this time." (96 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, March 2026)

"This red is all about finesse and tension. Subtle aromas of dark berries, earth, mushrooms, lavender and violets. Medium-bodied with ultra-fine tannins and hints of chalk and spices such as nutmeg. Energetic at the end, with an almost pinot-like delicacy. 80% merlot and 20% cabernet franc. Drinkable now, but better in a couple of years. Try after 2027." (97 pts. James Suckling, Dec. 2025)
Estimate: $1,000-$1,300
Starting Bid: $800

166 Vieux Chateau Certan 2023

2owc
Bottle (12)
"The 2023 Vieux Château Certan is wonderfully complex and dynamic in the glass. The layers here are just remarkable. That sort of dimension is one of the qualities that was hard to come by in 2023. Dark blue-toned fruit, lavender, scorched earth, new leather and menthol soar, lending tons of vertical, explosive energy. Floral and savory overtones develop with air, adding further shades of nuance. What a gorgeous and complete wine this is." (98 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, March 2026)

"The 2023 Vieux Château Certan has turned out beautifully, bursting with aromas of blackberries and mulberries mingled with notions of iris, licorice and burning embers. Medium- to full-bodied, ample and fleshy, with an elegantly unctuous attack that segues into a rich and succulent mid-palate, it's a suave, seamless classic that will enjoy a wide drinking window. The 2023 is a blend of 82% Merlot and 18% Cabernet Franc that checks in at 14% alcohol." (97 pts. William Kelley, The Wine Advocate, April 2026)

"Honeyed brioche, preserved lemons, elderflowers and white stone fruit. This has a lovely weight and sense of fat on the palate, some pineapple tropicality but aligned to acidity that keeps this lifted. There's definitely some of that bitter orange rind, pear drop taste/texture that leaves a buzz on the tongue. I like the expression, there's lots going on, texture, drive, layers of flavour. Green apple, peach, pear. Salivating and also a touch of sucrosity that gives the weight. Chewy, clean, forward. Lovely." (96 pts. Georgina Hindle, Decanter, Jan. 2026)

"The 2023 Pavillon Blanc is elegant, gracious and light on its feet. This is an especially airy, lifted Pavillon Blanc. A heat spike starting on August 17 caused the technical team to accelerate harvest. Picking started on August 23 and wrapped up on August 30. There's good energy and tension here, but I find the 2023 a bit light on the mid-palate. Hints of lemon peel, sage, chalk, mint and white pepper linger on the brilliant finish." (94 pts. "Finally, it was time for Aÿ to take center stage in Bollinger's new Pinot Noir series. It wasn't until the fourth edition that one got home to the house's most powerful stronghold and DNA. In comparison to the three previous editions, we are dealing with a tasting winner from the start. The oak notes and the home village's smoky features hit me like a wall of sauna, grilled meat, hazelnuts and tar. The color is deeper than in previous editions and the power stronger than in the first three PN. 47% of the wine comes from the home village in casks both from 2018 and in the reserve wine on magnums from 2009. In between these mighty parts we have steel tank-aged Tauxières, Avenay and Verzenay from the lighter and more mineral-influenced vintages of 2016 and 2017. This particular side takes the biggest place in the middle register and mid-palate of the wine. In aroma and aftertaste, Aÿ pushes forward with its broad muscular shoulders and leaves no one untouched. A bargain with peak 2030–2035!" (95 pts. Richard Juhlin, Champagne Club, Sept. 2026)

"Unsurprisingly, the 2019 base year with its richness once again received mineral-influenced Verzenay (40%) as the base terroir when Aÿ produced slightly too rich wines. The reserve wines on the magnum once again go all the way down to the tasty 2009 vintage all from Verzenay. Aÿ, Louvois, Bisseuil, Avenay, Tours-sur-Marne, Mareuil-sur-Aÿ and Mutigny stand for the background chords. Currently, the champagne charms through its complex and youthfully energetic bouquet of peach peel, gooseberry, cox orange apples, sea buckthorn, geranium and marigolds. The texture is at the same time softly ripe and velvety. The breadth of flavours is magnificently orchestrated and each new sip brings additional aromas at hand. The potential alcohol content was record high from the start especially in Aÿ with 11.1% straight away and Denis, just like me, sees great similarities between 2015 and 2019, but where the sharpness and freshness is better in 2019. It is not the acidity but rather the mineral salt that gives the freshness together with the sense of umami the concentrated grapes give. Here there is a swirl of exotic fruit and honey, but also a dry smokiness that I've learned to associate with the cluster of aromas that transforms over time into the note of railway on a hot summer's day. It might sound fuzzy, but it actually makes perfect sense. The combination of heated rail, dry gravel, dandelions and nettles that thrive in the embankment gives a concentrated warm dryness that is strongly reminiscent of the character the grapes acquire when the temperature crosses the vine's pain point on a few hot summer days. 41 degrees in the shade was a heat record in Champagne and especially a lot of shade, the vineyards in Champagne cannot boast of so the effect is reminiscent of that which arose in 1947, 1959, 1976 and 2003. Hence this aroma albeit less marked in 2019. Let's see if I'm right in 10 years when I expect that "the famous note of Railroad track" will appear in this beauty. PN VZ19 is tasted with great pleasure and intellectual challenge straight away, but personally, as usual, I will wait as long as I can before opening my own bottles to get the increasing depth of butter-fried cepp and toasted hazelnut aromas that only aging can provide." "The latest rendition of Bollinger's blended blanc de noirs bottling is the NV Brut Blanc de Noirs PN VZ19; it is based on the 2019 vintage, which represents 52% of the blend, and the village of Verzenay, which accounts for the origin of 40% of this bottling's components. 2019 is complemented by fully 48% reserve wines, and above all, fully a quarter derives from 2009; and it has the tension of Verzenay by Aÿ, Avenay-Val-d'Or, Tauxières and Mutigny. If all that sounds complicated, the wine's appeal is easier to see, as it offers up a demonstrative bouquet of yellow stone fruit, mandarin and praline, followed by a medium to full-bodied, pure and pillowy palate that's charming, even giving, but also attractively racy, concluding with a saline finish. It was disgorged with six grams per liter dosage. This doesn't tower above its 2018-base counterpart (perhaps unsurprisingly, as the percentage of reserve wines in this bottling is so high), but it does seem to be marginally the strongest iteration of this cuvée to date." B16
12ogb, disgorged: Nov 2024
Bottle (12)
"Bollinger's winemaking team chose early on not to make a La Grande Année 2016 and took the opportunity to experiment a bit with a different geographical focus than any previous cuvée. They focused almost exclusively on making a terroir-driven wine from the Montagne de Reims with Bouzy instead of Aÿ as the starting point. Although there are 13 villages involved, 5 of them emphatically dominate. Aÿ, for example, which usually dominates Bollinger's vintage champagne, contributes less than 1 percent this time. Bouzy accounts for a full 25% of the composition with Verzy 10%, Verzenay 8%, Tauxières 7% and 14% Chardonnay coming from Trépail. The vinification with the old oak barrels, bottle aging under cork, hand remuage and disgorging by hand is exactly the same as always, but the style is completely different with a completely different terroir expression. Just like the VVF from 2016, Bollinger B from the same vintage has a 4 gram dosage. This is of course a very good wine and it is extremely exciting to see how the vineyards put their own fingerprint on the whole. I am most struck by the difference in structure compared to LGA. Here everything is silky and slim, with Bouzy's soft, slightly gentle form without the depth I usually find in LGA. Even the most characteristic hazelnut aroma is replaced with sweet almond. The apple notes are toned down and the peach notes take over. The honeysuckle is gone and has been replaced by hawthorn and bird cherry. The precision is eminent and the development potential may be higher than I indicated as time will probably erase some of the differences compared to LGA. As usual, time will tell." (92 pts. "In 2013, Bollinger did not release a Grande Année but did offer its B13, a single-vintage take on a year considered atypical for the Bollinger style. The concept is repeated in the tricky but ultimately fine quality 2016 harvest with the B16. It presents a relatively delicate, cool and understated vintage relative to the Grande Année. The ripeness of the Pinot Noir is certainly present in the juicy stewed apricot and fresh raspberry fruit, but Chardonnay here brings gentle orchard fruit and fresh grapefruit zest beneath subtle richness of toasted nut and oyster shell complexity from ageing. While Grande Année offers more intensity and drama, and the latest PN series offers dynamism and youthful energy, B16 is perfectly pitched between smooth maturity and approachable brightness, all at a temptingly moderate premium over the non-vintage cuvée." "So then it was time for the second edition of the already cult-declared monopoly wine from the purest chalk in Aÿ covered only by a decimetre-thick layer of soil. The grapes for the champagne come exclusively from the cooler north-west side planted with vines from Burgundy as the other part is weighted for the red wine under the same name. Selection Massale, of course, and with an extremely low yield that only created just over 1,000 bottles for all the world's champagne collectors. After the harvest, the wine is stored for 7 months in the house's well-aged oak barrels and then rests for 10 years in the cellar with natural cork for maximum autolytic body building in the same spirit as the vintage wine and VVF. So, in a way, a blanc de noirs d'Aÿ made in a burgundy way a'la Richebourg or Romanée-Conti. Taken together, all these details make for a truly fantastic wine that balances in an almost unearthly way between an enormously intense concentration and a rarely seen mineral-tinged freshness. The chalk note from the unique growing site sounds pure like a Stradivarius playing soloist and the bass notes from fully matured Pinot Noir rumble together with the relative weight of the oak barrels. It must be said right away that 2013 is considerably lighter and cooler in appearance than the premiere vintage in 2012. I think one have to taste 2013 more devoutly and focused in order not to get caught up in the fact that the wine is a little more shy and timid than 2012. The cool weather, however, gave us wonderful opportunities to follow the development of this wine during many years of aging. I predict that the peak level of wine will be reached sometime between 2030–2040. The acidity, the minerality and the purity are so beautiful that I'm happy to sit by myself even now and let myself sink into the swirling fresh dance of this beautiful wine. The fragrance is ultra-elegant with fine floral notes and sublime details. Most obvious right now is an enticing base note of After Eight mint chocolate. In many ways, the wine behaves like a high-class Blanc de Blancs from Le Mesnil with unexpectedly strong minerality, roses, lily of the valley and citrus notes. The low dosage of 4 grams gives the minerality full space and with time in the glass more peach and apricot will appear. The aftertaste is quite light, but extremely long and slender-limbed. The attack is fresh and detailed, while the scent balances so nicely between the soft chocolate notes and the citrus florality. Buy everything you see. I know I will." (98 pts. "One of the greatest hits from this vineyard, Bollinger's 2013 Blanc de Noirs La Côte aux Enfants has evolved beautifully, embodying everything that made the long, slow-ripening season so compelling. Harvested on October 5 from the vineyard's cool, northwest-facing slope, the fruit attained 10.4% potential alcohol. Disgorged in March 2022 with a dosage of four grams per liter, it unfurls from the glass with a deep bouquet of pear, wildflower honey and white peach, mingling with spice and bread dough. On the palate, it is medium- to full-bodied, tensile and racy, with a pure, chalky core that marries Bollinger's characteristic Pinot Noir power with incisive acidity and underlying tension. "This is remarkably complete and seamless for a single-vineyard Champagne, with a fragrance sat between raspberry pie, roasted plum and fresh blackberries, tart but ripe. The richness of lees ageing and the subtle openness of old oak barrel fermentation have brought honey and brown bread richness into the fold, which holds some force and breadth up front before tapering into a beautifully strict, persistent close full of chalky presence, salty pastry and liquorice. A super fine and rare blanc de noirs from the cool 2013 season." (95 pts. Tom Hewson, Decanter, March 2024)

"The 2013 La Côte aux Enfants is a rich, heady Champagne. Passion fruit, candied apricot, white flowers, vanillin, spice and tangerine oil all race across the palate. Deep and layered, with notable complexity, the 2013 is decidedly racy. Interestingly, the 2013 is much more expressive than the 2012 was at this stage. The 2013 was picked at 11.12% potential alcohol. Dosage is 4 grams per liter. In just its second release, the La Côte aux Enfants seems headed in a very positive direction." (95 pts. "As you know, I love the magical moment when I get the chance, as the first journalist, to lighten the cork of the latest vintage of Bollinger La Grande Année. We have been spoiled by a trend where these beauties were released later and later. In other words, more drinkable and mature than before. The most recent legendary vintage of 2008 was admittedly extremely youthful at launch despite its high actual age. Since neither 2009, 2010 nor 2011 was considered to be a big year at the discerning Aÿ house, 2012 is thus released at the age of 7.5. It should probably be a good age to drink a wine made in a consciously oxidative style on old oak barrels, but despite its great wealth and delicious aromatic profile, I advise you to put every bottle in the cellar between 5-10 years for the greatest possible enjoyment. The wine is made from 21 villages with Aÿ and Verzenay in the driver's seat backed by elegance from Le Mesnil-sur-Oger and Oiry. The wine is characterized by vitality and energy more than depth at present. The color has a brilliant golden glow and the mousse is almost panting in its resilient youthfulness. The scent is beautifully house typical, dominated by apricot, almond, hazelnut and a smoky sophisticated intensity as from a newly lit outdoor fire. The attack is stunningly intense and the weight in the oral cavity leaves nothing left to wish for." (95 pts. Richard Juhlin, Champagne Club, May 2025)

"I belong to the group of people that believes that Bollinger above all shows its greatness in lighter and more elegant vintages, as the inherent Pinot-driven masculine power they possess is always sufficient. In the grand generous vintages, one must fight hard to hold back the rumbling force and maintain freshness and sublime details. 2014 is a textbook example in the lighter category. Many champagnes from 2014 are simply too light, vague, and floral in nature, but this does not apply in any way to Bollinger La Grande Année. Here, they have beautifully navigated their way between the grains of the vintage and instead focused on its merits. The champagne is thus clearer and more elegant, with a higher proportion of Chardonnay from Chouilly and Oiry than usual to include and embrace the citrusy and floral sides. The extremely intense aroma is otherwise dominated by a marked air of sea breezes, sea urchins, oyster shells, iodine and gunpowder smoke originating from Verzenay. There is also a light note of hazelnut and leather from Aÿ. The combination of these pillars and all complementary villages also gives a delicate fruit with hints of orange citrus, peach, and Mirabelle plum. The aromas come again in the fine and medium-bodied taste with an added note of the finest vanilla and fresh cep in olive oil. Overall, this is an extremely beautiful and complex Bollinger on the finer and more elegant half of the whole. I love how you find new little details in a harmonious simplicity with each new sip. Fascinating and beautiful already, grand as R.D. in 10 years or more and without a doubt one of the vintage's rare hits." (96 pts. Richard Juhlin, Champagne Club, Feb. 2024)

"Bollinger's 2014 La Grande Année is a great way to start the evening as guests mill around Wheeler Farms. It is early evening in Napa, but there is still plenty of action in the winery, where various lots are being pressed under the watchful eye of winemaker Nigel Kinsman. There are some moments where I would very much like to be a civilian, a regular person enjoying the night, but I am more concerned with our guests having a great night, so I quickly go back to check on our wines. The Bollinger 2014 is everything I expected; bright, focused and full of all the energy this late-ripening vintage conferred to the best wines." (98 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Feb. 2023)

"Offering up complex aromas of crisp yellow orchard fruit, confit citrus, frangipane, walnuts, dried white flowers and subtle hints of iodine, Bollinger's 2014 Brut La Grande Année is medium to full-bodied, pillowy and vinous, with an elegantly fleshy core of fruit that's underpinned by racy acids and complemented by a pretty pinpoint mousse. Concluding with a long, chalky finish, this is a charming but precise Grande Année that's more giving and demonstrative than its immediate predecessor, the 2012, but which attains a very similar level of quality in a more challenging vintage—testimony to the serious viticulture that underpins Bollinger's contemporary excellence." 214 Bollinger Vintage Champagne 2018
La Grande Annee
2ocb, disgorged: June 2025
Magnum (6)
"2018 is generally a vintage that was almost perfect. Despite that, the weather was very special and periodically changeable. The weather offered an immense rainy winter and spring and an extremely dry and very hot summer that perfectly compensated for the moisture and led to a record early harvest on August 23 for Pinot Noir and a week later for Chardonnay. Everything was harvested under perfect conditions. This led to both power and unexpected freshness in the wines despite the fact that the year's average temperature was even higher than in 2015, which produced less fresh and more bombastic champagne. 19% Aÿ, 19% Verzenay, 10% Mareuil-sur-Aÿ, 7% Avize, 6% Chouilly, 5% Cuis and 34% from the other 13 villages of Grand Cru and Premier Cru, there you have it, the composition this time. It is always interesting to compare the backbone ratio between Aÿ and Verzenay, which is divided here into exactly equal proportions. Historically, Aÿ has always dominated the base emphatically, but with climate change, the proportion of stony and more acidic Verzenay is increasing. Of course, all wines are vinified in small oak barrels and this time La Grande Année has been provided with a dosage of 6 grams compared to 8 grams in the latest edition from 2015. It is also very interesting to compare these two vintages. If we start with the appearance, there is no doubt that 2015 was significantly deeper in color with bronze splashes and a deep golden base tone at the same age. In 2018, the color is substantially lighter and the mousse is a bit livelier and faster in the glass. If 2015 was like a walk in the forest in autumn, 2018 is spring-winter just when nature is starting to wake up. Enormous expectant energy and an underlying well-hidden power that will be firing on all cylinders after 2035. A real knockout fist treacherously draped in silk gloves. Cold, fresh and sparkling notes of citrus and Granny Smith apples dance beautifully together with the more classic Bollinger notes of brioche and gunpowder-smoky minerality. Right now, there are more green apples here than red apples, more raspberries than peaches, more acacia and yellow roses than honeysuckle, more bitter almonds than hazelnuts, more cinnamon than tar, more shiitake mushrooms than cep, more butterscotch than chocolate, more light birch wood than heavy sauna notes. We are therefore dealing with a classic and extremely complex Bollinger with a bright energy. It is easy to be tempted to believe that the wine is lighter than it is because of the fresh elements camouflaging the strength. The oak is not so pronounced aromatically, but its effect is still clear through the creamy and velvety palate that the wine conveys. Even the biscuity complexity that attracts our senses has part of its origin from the micro-oxidation via the oxygen exchange through the fibers of the small oak barrels. Many have made brilliant champagnes in 2018, but most are still shy and unredeemed and require long aging. This is not the case with Bollinger La Grande Année. Here you can be part of a wonderful experience right away, although I personally will wait many years before I open my own bottles when the great depth has arrived." (96 pts. "Bollinger's 2018 La Grande Année is quite pretty and delicate. Floral and citrus notes are nicely lifted in a Grande Année that offers notable sensuality and grace. Hints of orchard fruit, chamomile, mint and chalk build through the mid-palate and into the taut, chiseled finish. There's plenty of energy and focus. More importantly, this is a fine effort in a year marked by high yields in Champagne. I would give this a few years in the cellar. The 2018 is 66% Pinot Noir and 34% Chardonnay from 19 villages, 73% Grand Cru and 37% Premier Cru. The core villages are Aÿ, Verzenay and Mareuil for Pinot Noir and Avize, Chouilly and Cuis for the Chardonnay. Dosage is 7 grams per liter. Disgorged: March 2025." (96 pts. "Originating from a hot and dry growing season—particularly from mid-June onward—during which harvest began as early as August 23 and lasted for a full two weeks, Bollinger's 2018 La Grande Année, composed of 66% Pinot Noir and 34% Chardonnay, was disgorged in March 2025 with a dosage of six grams per liter. The wine has turned out very well in the vintage context, presenting—unsurprisingly—a broader and more succulent profile than the racy, fine-boned renditions of 2014 and 2008. Unfurling in the glass with aromas of peach, yellow apple, and orange peel mingled with freshly baked bread and mango, it is medium- to full-bodied, ample and textural, with a generous core of fruit, animated by a pillowy mousse and laden with ripe yet vibrant acidity, carrying through to a long finish. It is slightly more expressive in magnum format, though in either case, it will benefit from a few years of post-disgorgement aging to fully unwind." (94+ pts. "2018's generosity and open-knit structure yields an immediately fine, rewarding Grande Année full of white peach, grilled almond, sweet raspberry and blackberry Pinot fruit, held with customary Bollinger savour in some sea salt and briny restraint. There's a gentle apricot-skin grip speaking of the heat of the year, while a gentle fresh tang of dried citrus from Chardonnay keeps things moving. There's substance and fruit flesh up front here, but it's a less forceful wine than the 2015, well pitched for approaching in its first five years of life as well as beyond." (94 pts. "The 2021 Messorio (Merlot) is a wine of pure and total sensuality. Dark, layered and enveloping, the 2021 boasts notable textural richness from start to finish. Dark red-toned fruit, spice, mocha, new leather and licorice fill out the layers effortlessly. There's plenty of energy and depth to balance some of the more overt qualities. These days, Messorio is not as opulent as it was during the 1990s when it became an iconic wine in Italy, but the natural suitability of Maremma for producing exotic, sumptuous Merlots simply can't be denied. The 2021 spent 16 months in French oak barrels, with a small amount of the wine (7%) that was aged in stoneware amphora. It is a superb effort from Le Macchiole." (98 pts. This is a vintage of enormous richness and density, and everything about the wine is taken up a notch or two (including the bottle glass weight and the 15% alcohol content). But Axel Heinz and his team are well prepared for the hot vintages like 2020, and changes to farming and canopy management ensure even ripening. This wine is always hard to analyze in its youth. "The summer was so arid in 2022 that the vines shut down and ripening was halted until mid-August rains arrived. This helped to preserve acidity in the grapes, giving sensational freshness to balance the rich and finely structured palate. Masseto 2022, then, combines the best of both worlds: fruit ripeness and concentration, and freshness and poise. It's not as immediately seductive as the 2021, but there is so much potential in this long-lived vintage. Scents of cool, damp earth, dark hedgerow berries, Mediterranean scrub, and cocoa and wood give a sense of what is to come once time has untangled everything. Zingy, crunchy acidity steals the show early on, segueing into a mouthful of succulent yet dense dark berries and spice imbued with plenty of energy. Then some balsamic herbs and floral notes lighten the palate, before a touch of salinity and some bitter herbs emerge on the finish, with a refrain of bright cherry. Something special." (98 pts. "Currently on the market, the 2022 Masseto is 100% Merlot grown on the estate's distinctive blue clay soils. The wine immediately impresses with freshness, brightness and clarity. It shows firm but integrated tannins with a subtle salty note attributed to sodium-rich clays. According to proprietor Lamberto Frescobaldi, the magic of Masseto lies in its ability to stretch and consolidate across the palate, wrapping itself seamlessly in a kind of symbiosis that feels both expansive and complete. His point comes alive in this edition. Crafted for collectors, this vintage is intense and full yet never tiring, remaining solar and generous. The élevage is deliberately restrained with reduced wood influence despite the use of four coopers, including tonnelleries Taransaud and Baron, and 80% new oak, allowing the Merlot to remain dulcet and precise." I find the tannins a bit large-grained relative to most years. This is a transitional vintage for Masseto. The oak imprint very clearly speaks to a vintage with a bit less structure than the very top years. I am very interested to see how the 2023 develops in bottle. "Tasted a few months after it was bottled, the Ornellaia 2022 Bolgheri Superiore Ornellaia will be coming to market in March 2025. The blend is 55% Cabernet Sauvignon, 25% Merlot, 10% Cabernet Franc and 10% Petit Verdot. The wine sees 18 months of aging with up to 70% new oak, but the trick, proprietor Lamberto Frescobaldi tells me, is drawing from a large group of coopers with different toast levels and forests. "I don't want to make a wine of any one tonnellerie," he says. The oak element is crucial to the identity of this wine that reveals dark fruit, blackberry, sweet spice and cinnamon. Most of the vines were planted in the 1980s, and the average age of the plants is over 20 years old. Fruit comes from many parcels, including Bellaria, Bellaria Nuova, Bellaria Alta, Pero, Fosso, Vigna Vecchia and Stallina. Indeed, some 80 wines are made before final blending. The 2022 vintage will be remembered for its full-bodied appeal, concentrated fruit and generous oak renderings. Petit Verdot plays a slightly larger role in this vintage and was one of the surprise hits of 2022. It serves to elongate the wine and adds to its length. The wine's abundant fruit weight cedes to elegantly integrated tannins. This vintage will appeal to die-hard Ornellaia enthusiasts." (97 pts. Monica Larner, Wine Advocate, Feb. 2025)

"The Ornellaia 2023 Bolgheri Superiore Ornellaia is a blend of 55% Cabernet Sauvignon, 26% Merlot, 12% Cabernet Franc and 7% Petit Verdot, and it is worth noting that Merlot remains present at nearly the same percentage as previous years, despite the greater challenges faced by early-ripening varieties in this mildew-prone vintage. Careful fruit selection made the difference. The wine shows impressive richness and concentration with a bouquet that leans botanical and complex, marked by dark fruit, Mediterranean thyme and rosemary. The nose was slightly closed when I tasted the wine, but it will open. The texture is velvety and polished, delivering beautiful richness with a sense of succulence that feels expansive on the palate. Sourced from rocky limestone soils with clay lying deep underground, the wine is released three years after harvest to allow the variety to move beyond its initial phase of youthful fragrance and exuberance, though in this vintage, the overall impression remains dense and somewhat static in my view. "Incredibly good from the start. Crystal clear, clean, vibrating fresh without any disturbing acidity. Pure harmony from day one. Deep wide bouquet reminiscent of ancient days of concentration. Aromas that are intertwined to the most beautiful symphony. Warm generous breadiness, duck liver with brioche, butter-fried cep and a composite exquisite fruit ranging from yellow-green to orange. The texture is heavenly with a dense layer of silkiness over the ferociously fresh acidity and critical minerality. So, just in time for Richard Geoffroy's retirement, he releases the best wine of his life. What a grand finale and what a great farewell." (97 pts. Richard Juhlin, Champagne Club, June 2025)

Magnum (3)
"The 2008 Dom Pérignon remains one of the all-time greats here. No longer a young Champagne, the 2008 has begun moving into its first plateau of maturity. Baked apple tart, citrus confit, marzipan and lightly honeyed overtones are front and center. A touch of reduction—always present in 2008—adds freshness and energy." (98 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, April 2025)

"I had the privilege of tasting the new Dom Pérignon with Vincent Chaperon six months before the official launch. Of course, it is then important to point out that the edges of the champagne will have become a little rounder and softer when you take on yet another classic Dom Pérignon. What I encounter is nothing less than an architectural masterpiece where I am glad that Richard Geoffroy and Vincent were not tempted to create a more accessible delicious nightclub wine but dared to make a wine that will require additional storage in one´s own cellar if you want to enjoy the maximum of its merits. Such a decision is never easy as most of the wonderful bottles of Dom Pérignon are unfortunately drunk by party goers who are more interested in image than in the true greatness of the wine. The winemakers have worked with the vintage's contrasts and extremes and let nerve and excitement have full freedom. Today, the wine is a bit unredeemed and compact like a nervous explosive sprinter waiting for the starting shot in the starting block. The dosage is moderate to add clarity and sharpness to the contrasting flavors. The mousse is nervous and energetic and shows very clearly its role as an aroma carrier of spices and chalky minerals when they crack against the palate and pass the rear nasal passage and give the taste a tickling depth via its inner scent signals. Some of the contrast stems from the high acidity of the cold weather and is somewhat reminiscent of 1996 where the phenolic maturity was not particularly high and provided space for the roasted and mineral-driven secondary aromas. At the same time, there is a roundness without direct creaminess. To create this contrasting symphony, the winemakers used an even higher proportion of Mareuil-sur-Aÿ, Aÿ and Chouilly than usual, as these vineyards were particularly successful this year. An extremely interesting wine that will be drunk far too early, as I predict that the quality peak will appear after 2030. If you drink up all your bottles too early, you can take comfort in the fact that the wine will be even better and deeper with all the features retained under the Plénitude 2 label. Redan 96 poäng på magnum." (95 pts. Richard Juhlin, Champagne Club, July 2026)

"Now you must take my tasting note with a pinch of salt as it is still a long way to go before launch. When we met in May 2021, the wine was a little too recently disgorged and disorderly without full harmony. However, undeniably a great wine with a monstrous and monumental structure where the champagne was deliberately drawn towards Burgundy in style. Hardly any detail is really in the right place yet, but everything is there in a beautiful chaos. Strikingly different from the white version from the same year which is lighter and more feminine classic in nature. Here in the rosé, an almost barrel basic note of the smoke from a spring fire dominates together with notes of beetroot, orange nougat, figs and ripe strawberries in fine contrast with notes from the sea. Enormous force as a salt-sprinkled ocean with notes from the forest in the form of pine trees, jacaranda, teak and undergrowth. The acidity is monumental, as is the amount of chalky mineral, but still the senses are overflowing with rich cocky broad-shouldered and loud chords in all sorts of colorful splendor. Oh, how I long to taste this colossus again when the edges have been sanded down a bit. Most of all, I long to see what Dom Pérignon's world class chefs pick up for food with this challenging wine next time I'm in Château Saran or Le Trianon on Avenue de Champagne." (96 pts. Richard Juhlin, Champagne Club, Aug. 2025)

A Collector's Journey: From Barossa to Bordeaux and Beyond

From a passionate collector whose journey in fine wine began in the mid-1990s comes this carefully selected offering from a cellar assembled over three decades. Frequent travels to Australia's Barossa Valley and California's Napa Valley fostered a deep appreciation for the world's great wines, with many bottles acquired directly from wineries and others sourced through established retailers.

What began as a fascination with Australian Shiraz soon expanded to include the great wines of Bordeaux, California, Chile, and beyond. Along the way, personal visits to renowned estates and memorable encounters with winemakers helped shape a collection built on curiosity, knowledge, and a genuine love of wine.

This small selection comes from the collector's larger private cellar, where the wines have been carefully maintained in dedicated wine refrigeration since acquisition. A compelling offering that reflects a lifetime of exploration and appreciation for fine wine.

The Upper West Side Cellar

A modest collection can still give Bordeaux plenty of room to shine. This selection comes from a collector on Manhattan's Upper West Side, with the region providing the heart of the offering. For bidders who tend to turn first to the Bordeaux pages of the catalog, there is much here to enjoy. All wines were stored in an upright EuroCave in the collector's apartment.

245 Chateau Lafite Rothschild 1998
Pauillac
lbsl
Bottle (1)
"The 1998 Lafite Rothshild is served from double magnum directly from the chateau reserves, in fact with the man who made it sitting opposite me - Charles Chevalier. I must admit to being quite amaze how well this shows at 20-years of age, trouncing all the other First Growths except Haut-Brion. Lucid in colour, it has a vivid bouquet of pure blackberry, blueberry, vanilla and graphit, perhaps just a little uncharacteristically showy in style, but beautifully defined and intense. The palate is perfectly balanced with layers of ripe black fruit, perfectly pitched acidity and a silky smooth texture that renders this utterly seductive. It is almost too good for me to recommend cellaring longer. Whatever...it is a sublime Lafite-Rothschild that on this showing, may well challenge the supremacy of the 1996." (96 pts. Bottle (2)
"The 2002 Mouton-Rothschild, which was made by the late Patrick Léon, has a well-defined bouquet with pretty blackberry and graphite scents, quite precise and focused. This has matured well in bottle. The palate is medium-bodied with a cohesive entry, youthful, not amazingly complex and perhaps towards the end the limitations of the growing season impinge upon complexity. A touch of dark chocolate on the aftertaste. I would drink this over the next 10 to 15 years. Very fine." (92 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, April 2022)
Estimate: $700-$900
Starting Bid: $550

247 Chateau Calon Segur 2000
St. Estephe
owc
Magnum (6)
"Today, the powerful and brooding 2000 Calon-Ségur exudes Saint-Estèphe character in a style that marries classicism with exotic beauty. Dark-fleshed fruit, gravel, incense, tobacco, dried leaves and earthy notes open first in the beguiling bouquet. The 2000 is deep and layered in the glass, qualities that become even more prominent over time. Insistent tannins have finally softened, resulting in a wine that has arrived at its first plateau of maturity. The 2000 is an absolute joy to taste." (95 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Sept. 2025)
Estimate: $1,300-$1,700
Starting Bid: $1,000

248 Chateau Calon Segur 2005
St. Estephe
2lbsl, owc
Bottle (12)
"The 2005 Calon Ségur, which was matured in 75% new oak, has a powerful and burly nose: quite intense black fruit meet star anise and cough candy scents. This has fine delineation, even if a little rustic compared to the wines nowadays. The palate is smooth on the entry, and the tannins have softened since I last tasted this. With its higher percentage of Merlot driving the flavours, you might well place this on the Right Bank. Touches of black truffle emerge towards the finish and there is decent aftertaste. This just comes across as rather "tough" compared to contemporary Calon Ségur." (91 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, June 2025)
Estimate: $1,100-$1,400
Starting Bid: $850

249 Chateau Certan de May 1995
Pomerol
4bn, 12bsl, 1nl, owc
Bottle (12)
"An impressive Certan de May, the 1995 exhibits a dense ruby/purple color, and a moderately intense nose of black olives, cedar, raspberries, and cherry fruit intermixed with toasty new oak. In the mouth, the new oak is noticeable, as is an elevated level of tannin. Notwithstanding the aggressive vanillin flavors and powerful tannin, this wine has outstanding depth, and a layered, concentrated style with considerable muscle and power." (90 pts. Robert Parker, Wine Advocate, Feb. 1998)
Estimate: $1,000-$1,300
Starting Bid: $800

250 Chateau Leoville Barton 2001
St. Julien
2bn, owc
Bottle (12)
"The 2001 Léoville Barton is still a few years from full maturity. Unwinding in the decanter and glass with aromas of blackcurrant, licorice, loamy soil, cigar wrapper and vanilla pod, it's medium to full-bodied, rich and muscular, with a deep, concentrated core of fruit, lively acids and ripe but firm tannins that still assert themselves on the finish. If Léoville Poyferré is in its prime today, this Léoville Barton still ideally deserves a few more years' patience." (93 pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, Feb. 2022)
Estimate: $800-$1,100
Starting Bid: $600

251 Chateau Lynch Bages 2015
Pauillac
6ll, owc
Magnum (6)
"The 2015 Lynch-Bages has an intense nose of black fruit, cedar and pencil box aromas. This is muted at first but it only takes a few swirls to unleash the aromas. The palate is medium-bodied and beautifully balanced, with grainy tannins, real depth and grip. This has dispensed with some of its surliness and there is now more brightness toward the finish. The 2015 is excellent." (96 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, Feb. 2025)

A keen eye for the classics and a wonderfully expansive palate define this pristine collection from a San Francisco Bay Area gentleman. Bordeaux makes a commanding entrance with the 2000 vintage, bringing together Latour, Lafleur, Pétrus, Ausone and their illustrious peers. Burgundy offers equally compelling company, from Mugnier's 1999 Musigny and Denis Mortet's 1996 Chambertin to a generous selection of Groffier's greatest. The collector's appreciation for sweetness is particularly delightful, encompassing 2001 d'Yquem, Kracher's intricate bottlings and classic Vintage Port. A stunning, streamlined selection acquired upon release and through trusted retailers, removed from professional wine cellaring for this sale. Bid with confidence.

Clearly displays the rich black fruit and sexy Pomerol swagger that you expect of such a big vintage, tempered by the delicacy of the winemaking at L'Evangile. This is a great wine, still young, with a long life ahead of it." (94 pts. Jane Anson, Decanter, Nov. 2018)

"Deep garnet in color, the 2009 Pontet-Canet slips sensuously from the glass with opulent scents of crème de cassis, baked plums and Black Forest cake plus suggestions of Chinese five spice, potpourri, oolong tea and menthol. Full-bodied, rich, spicy and oh-so-decadent in the mouth, it has a fantastically velvety frame and seamless freshness, finishing very long." (100 pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, May 2020)

"Black as a moonless night, the 2009 Pontet Canet offers up notes of incense, graphite, smoke, licorice, creme de cassis and blackberries. A wine of irrefutable purity, laser-like precision, colossal weight and richness, and sensational freshness, this is a tour de force in winemaking that is capable of lasting 50 or more years. The tannins are elevated, but they are sweet and beautifully integrated as are the acidity, wood and alcohol (which must be in excess of 14%). This vineyard, which is situated on the high plateau of Pauillac adjacent to Mouton Rothschild, appears to have done everything perfectly in 2009." (100 pts. Robert Parker, Wine Advocate, Feb. 2012)

The wine is massive and full-bodied yet neither over the top nor heavy because of good acidity. With intense botrytis as well as a 70-75-second finish, this amazing Sauternes will be its apogee between 2010-2035." (99 pts. Robert Parker, Wine Advocate, June 2004)

"A pure, elegant and nicely perfumed if still relatively primary nose offers up mostly notes of various red berries, earth and spice nuances that are trimmed in just a touch of wood. The intense, sleek and muscular yet relatively refined broad-shouldered flavors possess superb volume and almost breathtaking power on the explosive and mouth coating finish. This is a classic Corton yet consistent with the style of the 2010 vintage, it is not especially rustic, indeed the tannins, while firm, are comparatively sophisticated. A knock out by any standard but at the same time, a wine for the patient though with the right foods, this could actually be enjoyed, infanticide though that might be." (95 pts. From the collection of a notable music industry executive comes a stellar lineup of California icons, with exceptional depth in Scarecrow, Abreu and Sine Qua Non. Headliners include 2013 Harlan Estate, 2013 Scarecrow and 2007 Abreu Thorevilos, a trio of 100-pointers. A particular coup is the single bottle of 2016 Scarecrow Toto's Opium Dream, one of just 200 produced from the estate's treasured Cabernet vines planted in 1945! Acquired upon release and from trusted wine retailers, these wines have been maintained in professional wine cellaring.

Bottle (1)
"Elegant secondary and strikingly complex aromas introduce sweet, rich and supple flavors that offer good flavor authority on the moderately long finish. This is a delicious effort that is beautifully textured and even at 18 years of age, it's still drinking perfectly. In fact, this is almost gulpable in the best sense and while it's not a great wine, it is delicious, satisfying and still a lovely drink that is the epitome of weightless flavor authority. Multiple, but not necessarily consistent, notes as some bottles don't seem to have the same level of depth displayed by the very best examples." (91 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, April 2010)

"Deep garnet-purple in color, the incredibly youthful, slowly evolving 2007 Thorevilos Proprietary Red is scented of mulberries, baked plums, spice cake and crème de cassis with nuances of dusty soil, sandalwood, redcurrant jelly, roast lamb and fried rosemary. The core of full-bodied, muscular fruit is supported by a firm foundation of beautifully ripe, grainy tannins and tons of freshness, finishing with a jaw-dropping array of layers and amazing energy." 313 Araujo Estate Cabernet Sauvignon 2005
Eisele Vineyard
Bottle (4)
"A nose of black raspberries interwoven with floral notes of blackcurrants and spice jump from the glass of this dense ruby/plum/purple wine. This famous vineyard at the northern end of Napa Valley, which in this era was owned by Bart and Daphne Araujo (today owned by François Pinault, the proprietor of Château Latour), can certainly make the argument that it's one of the first growths of Napa Valley. Sweet, velvety tannin, medium to full body, and extraordinary complexity and elegance characterize this wine, which is seamless and drinking beautifully. While not one of their longest-lived vintages, the balance and purity suggest that, while it may be entering its fully mature stage, it certainly can keep going for another 10-15 years. The finish is easily 40 seconds-plus." (96 pts. Robert Parker, Wine Advocate, June 2015)

Bottle (3)
"Deep ruby-red. Wonderfully deep aromas of black raspberry, dark cherry, mint, minerals, anise and flowers. Thick on entry, then expands in the middle palate, displaying a suave texture and a weightless impression for such a dense, chewy wine. Boasts a tight, concentrated core of black cherry fruit complicated by dark chocolate, thyme and tarragon. The rising, extremely long finish features black cherry, raspberry and licorice flavors and even, palate-saturating tannins." (94+ pts. Stephen Tanzer, Vinous, May 2011)
Estimate: $1,300-$1,700
Starting Bid: $1,000

317 Scarecrow Cabernet Sauvignon 2009

Bottle (3)
"Good bright ruby-red. Aromas of black cherry, violet, mint and anise. Lush, seamless and voluptuous, in the style of the year. Very pure dark fruit and mineral flavors are given added sex appeal by bitter chocolate and espresso nuances. Finishes very long and suave, with supple tannins and outstanding early appeal." (95 pts. Stephen Tanzer, Vinous, May 2012)
Estimate: $1,200-$1,500
Starting Bid: $950

318 Scarecrow Cabernet Sauvignon 2010
owc
Bottle (3)
"Tasting the three most recent vintages of the Scarecrow Cabernet Sauvignon was not only a privilege, but also an intellectual and hedonistic turn-on. The 2010 Scarecrow Cabernet Sauvignon (100% Cabernet Sauvignon) is a magnificent wine. Full-bodied and opulent with terrific purity, an intriguing, gravelly, wet stone-like minerality, and a sensational perfume, it has a spectacular finish that lasted over 45 seconds, offering up copious quantities of black currants, black cherries, cedar and vanillin. It is one of the superstars of the vintage. It is accessible now because of the sweetness of the tannins, but make no mistake, there is plenty of structure underlying the luxurious fruit levels. It should drink well for 30+ years." (98 pts. Robert Parker, Wine Advocate, Oct. 2013)
Estimate: $1,400-$1,800
Starting Bid: $1,100

319 Scarecrow Cabernet Sauvignon 2012
owc
Bottle (3)
"The classic 2012 Cabernet Sauvignon included fruit from the 2-acre, old vine parcel that is nearly 70 years of age. It boasts an opaque purple color as well as copious notes of spring flowers, blackberries, black raspberries and wet rocks. The wine's gravelly minerality and spectacular opulence and density make it an instant classic. This massive, full-bodied 2012 should drink beautifully for 15-20+ years. It showed incredibly well last year, and it still reveals the potential to possibly merit a 3-digit score – it's that special." (98 pts. Robert Parker, Wine Advocate, Oct. 2014)
Estimate: $1,400-$1,800
Starting Bid: $1,100

320 Scarecrow Cabernet Sauvignon 2012
owc
Bottle (3)
"A compelling, exotic beauty, the 2012 Scarecrow impresses for its power and intensity. White flowers, spices and new leather wrap around a core of dark fruit as this imposing, structured Cabernet Sauvignon opens up in the glass. The 2012 needs time in bottle to drop some baby fat and develop more aromatic nuance, but it is absolutely captivating, even today." (96 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Oct. 2014)
Estimate: $1,400-$1,800
Starting Bid: $1,100

321 Scarecrow Cabernet Sauvignon 2015
owc
Bottle (3)
"Produced from 100% Cabernet Sauvignon, the 2015 Cabernet Sauvignon leaps from the glass with gorgeous floral notes of red roses and lilacs over a core of black and red cherries, crushed black currants and baking spices plus hints of iron ore and dusty earth. The voluptuous, rounded, soft and sexy fruit slinks across the palate with incredible seamlessness and expression. Make no mistake, it is full-bodied and decadently powerful, but with a myriad of aromatic nuances, finishing long, layered and boldly perfumed." (99 pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, Oct. 2017)
Estimate: $1,500-$2,000
Starting Bid: $1,200

322 Scarecrow Cabernet Sauvignon 2018
owc
Bottle (3)
"Made from 100% Cabernet Sauvignon, the 2018 Scarecrow is deep garnet-purple in color, slipping slowly, measuredly out of the glass with sensuous notes of blackberry pie, blackcurrant pastilles and Morello cherries, leading to hints of raspberry leaves, oolong tea, cardamom and fragrant earth. Medium to full-bodied, the palate is chock-full of energy, delivering vivacious, mineral-sparked black fruit preserves flavors with a firm, grainy texture and a refreshing lift on the long, long finish. Simply gorgeous!" (98 pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, Nov. 2020)
Estimate: $1,400-$1,800
Starting Bid: $1,100

323 Scarecrow Cabernet Sauvignon 2018
owc
Bottle (3)
"The 2018 Cabernet Sauvignon shows why this Rutherford site is so highly regarded. A Cabernet of pedigree and stature, the 2018 Scarecrow makes a strong opening statement. Seemingly endless waves of fruit completely bury the tannins. A bit of coaxing releases an exotic melange of gravel, spice, smoke, grilled herb and licorice nuances that meld into the super-concentrated dark fruit. This is another stellar effort by the team led by winemaker Celia Welch and vineyard manager Mike Wolf." (97 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Jan. 2021)
Estimate: $1,400-$1,800
Starting Bid: $1,100

324 Scarecrow Cabernet Sauvignon 2018

Magnum (1)
"A ripe and refined wine that moves through steadily and assuredly, with cassis, plum reduction, loam, tobacco and savory notes layered seamlessly from start to finish. There's no bombast to this, just rock-solid Cabernet." (94 pts. James Molesworth, Wine Spectator, Oct. 2021)
Estimate: $1,100-$1,400
Starting Bid: $850

325 Scarecrow Cabernet Sauvignon 2019
owc
Magnum (1)
"Made from 100% Cabernet Sauvignon, the deep garnet-purple colored 2019 Scarecrow hits the ground running with bold expressions of crème de cassis, wild blueberries and chocolate-covered cherries plus hints of dried herbs, tilled soil and crushed rocks with a fragrant undercurrent of Indian spices. Medium to full-bodied, the palate is laden with layer upon layer of tightly packed mineral-sparked black fruit flavors, framed by super plush tannins and absolutely seamless freshness, finishing long, long, long. This expression of the venerable J.J. Cohn vineyard—including vines planted in 1945 by John Daniel and dry farmed—is pure magic. 2,000 cases were made." (100 pts. "The 2018 M. Étain is a blend of 87% Cabernet Sauvignon, 6% Malbec, 4% Merlot and 3% Petit Verdot. Deep garnet-purple colored, it charges out of the gate with expressive notes of crème de cassis, baked plums, wild blueberries and tilled soil with loads of exotic spice and fruitcake accents. Full-bodied, the palate is as rich as it is vibrant and refreshing, featuring approachable, finely grained tannins and seamless freshness, finishing long and earthy." (93+ pts. 361 Chateau Cheval Blanc 2020
St. Emilion
Bottle (2)
"The 2020 Cheval Blanc is eternal, seamless and exceptionally beautiful. All the elements are so well put together. Rose petal, blood orange, raspberry jam and cinnamon all take shape in the glass. Above all else, the 2020 Cheval Blanc is a wine of mind-blowing balance. Hints of mocha, raspberry jam, pomegranate and spice emerge with time in the glass. Cheval is quite simply one of the truly great wines of the vintage." (99 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Dec. 2022)

Bottle (2)
"A beauty, the opaque dense purple-colored 1995 exhibits jammy cassis, vanillin, and minerals in its fragrant but still youthful aromatics. Medium to full-bodied, with exceptional purity, superb concentration, and a long, intense, ripe, 40-second finish, this is a magnificent example of Latour. As the wine sat in the glass, scents of roasted espresso and toasty new oak emerged." (96 pts. Robert Parker, Wine Advocate, June 2000)

Chateau de Beaucastel
owc
Bottle (6)
"Bottled in late July, the 2015 Chateauneuf du Pape is an amazing effort, especially when one considers the production volume. Loaded with black cherry fruit and cola-like spice, this full-bodied, richly textured wine never seems heavy or warm, while exotic Indian spice notes linger on the finish. It should drink well for at least 20 years." (96 pts. Joe Czerwinski, Wine Advocate, Oct. 2017)
Estimate: $375-$475
Starting Bid: $300

California by Way of Dallas

California has the spotlight in this collection from a Dallas-area home. It is a pairing we are always happy to see at auction, offering bidders the opportunity to explore the region that has long held a central place in American wine collecting. All wines were stored in the collector's home under controlled temperature and humidity.

371 Promontory Red 2017
owc
Bottle (1)
"Deep garnet-purple colored, the 2017 Promontory has a wonderfully fragrant nose of baked blackberries, plum preserves and black currant pastilles with an undercurrent of star anise, violets, espresso and tilled earth. Medium to full-bodied, it is soft-spoken and elegantly styled in the mouth, featuring skillfully managed, grainy tannins and bags of juicy black fruits, finishing long, earthy and remarkably energetic. This is certainly among the most profound of the 2017 Napa Cabernets and for followers of this vineyard, not one to be missed." (97 pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, Jan. 2021)

The Philadelphia Estate Collection

California leads the way in this substantial collection from a Philadelphia-area estate, with Colgin making a particularly strong showing. The many wooden boxes leave little doubt about the estate's place in our consignor's cellar, and admirers of these wines will find plenty to hold their attention. We are delighted to offer this collection to fellow enthusiasts of California wine. All wines were stored in the collector's temperature- and humidity-controlled cellar on the property.

375 Dom Perignon Vintage Champagne 2009
11ogb
Bottle (11)
"Given that 2009 as a vintage must be characterized as an early mature vintage, Dom Pérignon's youthful character is both surprising and charitable. The structure is of course dense and impeccable with church halls of rooms for aromatic development. The first two bottles I tasted suffer a little from their short time after the disgorgement as they take an unusually long time to develop in the glass. When the oxygen and time is done I find beautiful bright floral notes nicely intertwined with apricot and peach. The coffee aromas and pine nuts show up just before the last sips passed my throat, and I am extremely curious to follow this embarrassingly elaborate piece of jewelry into the future. Another fantastic wine from Richard Geoffroy's hands. A little tight and closed compared to other wines from this generous vintage. Store and take part in an exciting journey." (93 pts. Richard Juhlin, Champagne Club, Aug. 2022)
Estimate: $1,800-$2,400
Starting Bid: $1,400

376 Colgin Cabernet Sauvignon 2014
Tychson Hill
owc
Bottle (3)
"The 2014 Cabernet Sauvignon Tychson Hill is an extraordinary wine with an inky bluish purple color and classic aromatics of crème de cassis, white flowers, lead pencil shavings, pen ink, incense and camphor. It hits the palate with full-bodied richness but not a bit of heaviness. Great precision, vibrant underlying acidity, and sweet, long tannins make this a sumptuous mouthful of wine with a finish of close to 45+ seconds. This fabulous effort can be drunk now or cellared for 25-30 years." (98 pts. Robert Parker, Wine Advocate, Oct. 2016)

"The 2016 Cabernet Sauvignon Tychson Hill Vineyard—from a generally northeastern-facing site in the afternoon shadow of the Mayacamas—blends herbal nuances of bay leaf and tobacco with blueberries and cassis. Full-bodied and concentrated, with suave, fine-grained tannins, this terrific example of Napa Cabernet finishes long and elegant." (98 pts. Joe Czerwinski, Wine Advocate, March 2024)

Cariad
owc
Bottle (6)
"A close second (and who knows how they might perform at different times and with different foods) is the 2012 Cariad Proprietary Red Wine, made from grapes grown by David Abreu at his estate vineyards in Napa. This blend of 53% Cabernet Sauvignon, 26% Merlot, 12% Cabernet Franc and 9% Petit Verdot shows notes of burning embers/charcoal, blackberry fruit, licorice and floral notes, followed by a full-bodied, dense, layered wine. It has great purity, wonderfully sweet, integrated tannin, and a voluptuous mouthfeel and finish of close to 50+ seconds. This is a stunner that can be drunk now or cellared for another 25-30 years." (98 pts. Robert Parker, Wine Advocate, Oct. 2015)
Estimate: $1,200-$1,500
Starting Bid: $950

380 Colgin Red 2014
Cariad
owc
Bottle (6)
"The 2014 Cariad is wonderfully expressive, open-knit and gracious. Sweet floral and spice notes give the 2014 much of its aromatics, while fruit is bright, vibrant and intense. I imagine the 2014 will drink well pretty much upon release. Today, the 2014 is showy, plush and inviting, but there is also plenty of depth to back it all up. Although I wouldn't dream of opening any of the 2014s early, but if I had to choose one wine to open before the others, this would be it. Cariad is a blend of fruit from several David Abreu ranches, with Madrona Ranch as the central component." (97 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Dec. 2016)
Estimate: $1,200-$1,500
Starting Bid: $950

381 Colgin Red 2015
Cariad
owc
Bottle (6)
"The 2015 Cariad is another gorgeous, open-knit offering from Colgin. Expressive spice and floral notes develop first. Medium in body and nuanced, the 2015 is strikingly beautiful. Naturally, Cariad shows the ripeness of the year while also retaining a good deal of freshness. Time in the glass does wonders in releasing the aromatics and fruit, both of which were a bit subdued at the outset. Drink it over the next decade." (98 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Nov. 2025)
Estimate: $1,200-$1,500
Starting Bid: $950

382 Colgin Red 2016
Cariad
owc
Bottle (6)
"The highlight in this range today, the 2016 Cariad is utterly magnificent. Cabernet Franc and Petit Verdot give the wine soaring aromatic intensity and striking savoriness to play off the racy, forward fruit. Time in barrel has done wonders to meld all the elements together. Today, the Cariad is dense, explosive and super-expressive. And yet my sense is that the 2016 still has quite a bit of room to grow. Even at this early stage, the 2016 is a total stunner. The symbiosis of David Abreu fruit and Allison Tauziet's winemaking makes for an electric, unforgettable 2016. Don't miss it." (100 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Oct. 2018)
Estimate: $1,500-$2,000

383 Colgin Red 2017
Cariad
owc
Bottle (6)
"Composed of 80% Cabernet Sauvignon, 14% Cabernet Franc, 4% Merlot and 2% Petit Verdot, the 2017 Cariad displays a very deep purple-black color. It bursts from the glass with an immediately compelling first waft of blueberry compote, plum preserves, licorice and fertile loam with emerging hints of candied violets, mossy tree bark, oolong tea and cinnamon stick. Medium to full-bodied, the palate is surprisingly elegant with a firm backbone of ripe, finely pixilated tannins and bold freshness, featuring all the black fruit layers suggested on the nose arranged with beautiful composure, finishing very long on a provocative iron ore note." (96+ pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, Oct. 2019)
Estimate: $1,000-$1,300
Starting Bid: $800

384 Colgin Red 2016
IX Estate
owc
Bottle (6)
"Deep garnet-purple, it comes strutting out of the glass with flamboyant Black Forest cake, blueberry compote and plum pudding notions plus hints of spice cake, unsmoked cigars, menthol, licorice and dusty soil and accented by wafts of tar and black tea. The palate is full-bodied yet incredibly poised and vibrant with amazing freshness and very fine-grained, very firm tannins. It possesses the most provocative earthy sparks, providing arresting depth to the very long, beautifully perfumed finish. Stunning." (100 pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, Oct. 2018)
Estimate: $1,900-$2,600
Starting Bid: $1,500

385 Colgin Red 2017
IX Estate
owc
Bottle (6)
"The 2017 IX Estate is composed of 68% Cabernet Sauvignon, 19% Cabernet Franc, 11% Merlot and 2% Petit Verdot. Opaque purple-black colored, the nose is quite closed and shy to begin, slowly unfurling to reveal freshly crushed blackberries, mulberries and blackcurrants plus suggestions of dusty soil, bouquet garni, pencil lead and cast-iron pan with gentle wafts of sandalwood, cardamom, rare beef and black tea. Medium to full-bodied, the palate is built like a brick house, strutting incredibly ripe yet super firm tannins, and it has lovely, uplifting freshness to help define all those black fruit and savory layers, finishing with epic length. Needs time, but this should turn out to be incredibly nuanced and long lived!" (98 pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, Oct. 2019)
Estimate: $1,200-$1,500
Starting Bid: $950

386 Colgin Red 2018
IX Estate
owc
Bottle (6)
"The 2018 IX Estate is a blend of 77% Cabernet Sauvignon, 14% Cabernet Franc, 8% Merlot and 1% Petit Verdot. Very deep purple-black colored, it needs a little coaxing to reveal earth and mineral scents of iron ore, tilled soil, forest floor and truffles with ripe red and black currants, kirsch, Black Forest cake and mulberries plus nuances of tar, lilacs and Sichuan pepper. Full-bodied and built like a brick house, the palate has a rock-solid frame of firm, grainy tannins and exhilarating freshness supporting the taut, muscular fruit. Mineral and savory accents linger long into the epic finish. A thought-provoking, pensive, mesmerizing wine." (100 pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, Nov. 2020)

"The 2013 Syrah IX Estate is unbelievably young. I could have easily mistaken it for a far younger wine, with the exception that the tannins have pretty much melted away. Intense dark fruit, mocha, spice and leather all gradually open in the glass. Readers who enjoy more aromatic nuance should consider cellaring the 2013 for another few years, despite how delicious it is today. What a wine." (96 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, May 2024)

Cristal
owc
Magnum (1)
"The 1990 Cristal is remarkable. Polished, nuanced and light on its feet, the 1990 is all class. Citrus, orchard fruit and floral notes are wonderfully lifted throughout. A slight reductive note adds character on the finely knit finish. I can't think of a better way to start this tasting. Simply put, the 1990 is a total rock star. Moreover, it is much more delicate than most wines from this ripe vintage. Amazingly, the 1990 tastes like it is still not ready! "Nineteen ninety was my second vintage here," says Chef de Caves Jean-Baptiste Lécaillon. "It was ideal. The fruit was just perfect. We blocked the malolactic fermentation completely and only fermented 6-7% of our lots in oak, as opposed to the more typical 20%, in order to preserve as much freshness as possible. The wine was made by my predecessor, Michel Pansu, but I was learning. This was the first year I started working with oxygen by reducing sulfites in vinification to pre-oxidize the Chardonnay musts, as I do know, which allows me to get rid of all the unstable, oxidative compounds. With Pinot, on the other hand, you need a little bit of sulfur at crush or you lose the brilliant fruit." (97 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Dec. 2018)

"Composed roughly of two-thirds Merlot with 5% Cabernet Franc and the rest Cabernet Sauvignon, the medium to deep colored 2016 The Flight opens with bold, expressive notions of wild blueberries, warm plums and boysenberries with touches of black raspberries, spice cake, violets, dark chocolate and potpourri with a hint of menthol. Full-bodied, rich, spicy and jam-packed with energy, it has beautifully plush tannins texturing the multilayered blue and black fruits, delivering a very long, perfumed finish." (97+ pts. "Extremely floral and aromatic with violets and lavender throughout. Black olives, too. It's medium-to full-bodied with firm, very fine-grained tannins that run the length of the wine. Goes on for minutes. A greenish undertone comes out at the end with some spearmint, green tea and green olive. About two-thirds merlot. Best after 2028, but already stunning." (99 pts. "The 2020 The Flight is classy and polished from the very first taste. Aromatic and understated, the 2020 offers a distinct feeling of classicism in its mid-weight structure. Crushed flowers, herbs and spice lead into a core of red/purplish fruit. The 2020 is a seriously impressive wine. Readers should expect a more lifted, restrained style than is the norm." (94 pts. "The 2021 Pinot Noir Marcassin Vineyard is glorious. Dark, ample and enveloping, the 2021 is promising but also very, very young. A blast of dark blue/purplish fruit makes a strong opening statement. The 2021 is youthful and packed to the core; it's going to need at least a few years to come into its own. This is a seriously impressive young Pinot from Marcassin." (98 pts. "The 2021 Chardonnay Marcassin Vineyard is rich and resonant in the glass. It's a grand, sweeping wine that will thrill those lucky enough to find it. Plush contours wrap around a core of lemon confit, dried herbs, marzipan and white flowers. Brisk acids suggest further time in bottle will be beneficial. Although quite heady in its first impression, the 2021 turns more and more delicate with time in the glass. It's classic Marcassin all the way." (97 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Jan. 2026)

"The 2016 Cabernet Sauvignon Pritchard Hill has a very deep garnet-purple color. To smell the nose is like hearing angels trumpeting at the pearly gates! The most incredible and evocative scents come spilling out of the glass, conjuring notions of freshly crushed black raspberries, wild blueberries, red and black currant compote and raspberry leaves with subtler hints of roses, violets, tilled soil, cigar box and fragrant earth. Medium to full-bodied and achingly graceful in the mouth, the perfumed black and red fruits seemingly dance on the palate with a very firm yet beautifully fine-grained texture and just the right amount of freshness, finishing with epic persistence. Hallelujah—this is perfection!!" (100 pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, Oct. 2018)

"The 2018 Cabernet Sauvignon Pritchard Hill is composed of 90% Cabernet Sauvignon and 10% Petit Verdot. It was aged in 100% new French oak for 22 months. The alcohol weighed in at 14.5%. Deep garnet-purple in color, it charges out of the gate with bold expressions of warm cassis, wild blueberries and black raspberries, plus hints of chocolate box, menthol, tapenade, smoked meats and pencil lead. Medium to full-bodied, the palate is bursting with vibrant black fruits, framed by fantastically ripe, fine-grained tannins and lovely freshness, finishing long and mineral laced." (98+ pts. "A blend of 95% Cabernet Sauvignon and 5% Petit Verdot, the 2019 Cabernet Sauvignon Pritchard Hill is another wonderfully evocative triumph from this family-owned Pritchard Hill pioneer. Deep garnet-purple colored, it storms out of the glass with profound scents of crème de cassis, blackberry preserves, licorice and mulberries, plus hints of unsmoked cigars, wild sage and tar. The medium to full-bodied palate delivers fantastic intensity and great poise, offering fine-grained, ripe tannins and bold freshness, finishing long and mineral laced." (99 pts. Deep garnet-purple colored, the nose is a little reticent to begin, needing a fair bit of coaxing to reveal beautifully beguiling notions of wild blueberries, warm blackberries, black currant cordial, cloves and cedar chest with nuances of camphor, yeast extract, charcuterie and candied violets. Medium to full-bodied, the palate has fantastic elegance and depth, revealing loads of subtle floral, black fruit and earthy layers with a firm, very finely grained texture and seamless freshness, finishing with epic length." "The 2012 Cabernet Sauvignon Hillside Select is a perfect wine. It elicits more than a few 'wows' when you smell the incredible notes of charcoal, graphite and subtle toast, buttressed and dominated by blackcurrant, blackberry and blueberry fruit. The purity of these fruits, the multidimensional mouthfeel, the seamless integration of acid, alcohol, tannin and wood are all flawless. The 2012 signature adds an extravagant opulence and density that is just mind-boggling, and the wine is a total hedonistic and intellectual turn-on already, although it has 30+ years of life ahead of it." "The 2013 Cabernet Sauvignon Hillside Select will probably hit the magic three-digit score, but it is a more backward style of wine, although probably even more concentrated than the 2012, and that's saying something. Fabulous potential of 30-50 years is evident in this profound bottle of Cabernet Sauvignon that is inky blue/black to the rim and offers up notes of charcoal embers, scorched earth, blackberries, cassis, blueberries, a hint of coffee, and background barrique smells. Massively concentrated but incredibly elegant and poised, this is a wine of great energy and vibrancy. It is fabulously deep, built like a skyscraper, and set for an incredibly long life." (98+ pts. Full-bodied, rich, boldly fruited and wildly decadent, it has a rock-solid frame of grainy tannins and compelling freshness, finishing with loads of earthy and savory layers." (98+ pts. The rich, densely packed, full-bodied palate is at once thrillingly hedonic and perfectly poised, featuring a rock-solid frame of firm, exquisitely ripe tannins and tons of freshness, finishing epically long and with stunning opulence. "Sourced from specific blocks of estate-grown fruit, the 2019 Cabernet Sauvignon Hillside Select is another highly successful vintage. All Cabernet Sauvignon aged 32 months in 100% new French oak, it boasts intense aromas of pencil shavings, dark loam, cassis and plum on the nose, while the palate is full-bodied, super-ripe, rich, dense and concentrated—a truly impressive California vin de garde. Tannic but ripe, it finishes long and firm on the finish, adding a hint of mocha. To be released in September 2023, it's a strong showing and hopefully an indication that quality will remain high under the new ownership." (98+ pts. Joe Czerwinski, Wine Advocate, March 2023)

California Gold from Dallas

Some California gold by way of Dallas. This selection from a Dallas-area collector brings the focus squarely to the Golden State, offering an inviting opportunity for bidders who make California a regular part of their buying. There is plenty of pleasure in a collection with a clear regional focus, and we look forward to seeing these bottles find their next homes. All wines were maintained in professional wine storage.

Cariad
Bottle (3)
"Sourced primarily from David Abreu's Madrona Ranch on the western side of Saint Helena, Colgin's 2022 Cariad is more than half Cabernet Sauvignon, with the balance a blend of Cabernet Franc, Merlot and Petit Verdot. Marked by ripe cherries and raspberries and accented by hints of dried spices and gentle leafy overtones, it's compellingly complex on the nose, while the full-bodied palate is silky in feel but with tensile strength from front to back, finishing dusty and long." (97+ pts. Joe Czerwinski, Wine Advocate, June 2025)
Estimate: $750-$950
Starting Bid: $600

458 Colgin Red 2022
IX Estate
1nl
Bottle (3)
"Colgin's 2022 IX Estate—pronounced Nine Estate—is primarily Cabernet Sauvignon but also includes a fair dose of Cabernet Franc, plus Merlot and Petit Verdot. Picked well after the heat wave because of its location high on Pritchard Hill, it boasts stunning complexity on the nose: blueberry, boysenberry and loganberry, joined by sage, bay leaf, dusty earth and mocha. Full-bodied, it's tannic and firmly built, by far the most structural of Colgin's 2022s, but it does show a slight coarsening of texture on the lingering finish." (98+ pts. Joe Czerwinski, Wine Advocate, June 2025)

"The 2022 Cabernet Sauvignon Lotus Vineyard is another super-impressive wine from Dana Estates. Plush, silky and voluptuous, the 2022 is striking in its purity and beauty. Naturally, it needs time to fully come together, but it is surely impressive in the early going." (94–96 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Dec. 2023)

463 Scarecrow Cabernet Sauvignon 2022
owc
Bottle (3)
"The 2022 Scarecrow is 100% Cabernet Sauvignon from the J.J. Cohn vineyard, nestled up against the lower slopes of the Mayacamas. Bottled in July 2024, it features mixed red and black cherries on the nose, plus hints of cassis and pencil shavings. In the mouth, it's full-bodied and silky, the wood bringing structure—and maybe even a bit of freshness—to the wine this year, prolonging the finish and helping to shape the palate into a more linear shape. Not quite up to the lofty standards of the 2019 or 2021 vintages, it's still a stunning Napa Valley Cabernet Sauvignon that should evolve nicely for two decades." (97 pts. Larry Hyde & Sons
Bottle (12)
"The 2014 Chardonnay Larry Hyde & Sons has a greenish hue to its light-gold color, a fresh, lively nose of poached pears, citrus oil, honeysuckle, a hint of pineapple and tangerine. This is a beautiful, full-bodied Chardonnay to drink over the next decade or more." (95 pts. Robert Parker, Wine Advocate, Oct. 2016)

473 Marcassin Chardonnay 2010
Marcassin Vineyard
Bottle (3)
"With a slightly smokier edge to the honeysuckle, poached pear, pineapple and caramelized citrus notes, the 2010 Chardonnay Marcassin Vineyard hits the palate with a full-bodied, thunderous affect of fruit, glycerin and acidity. The wine reveals some smoke in the aromatics, but little, if any, in the flavor profile. Full-bodied, lovely, and again, close to perfection (as so often these wines are), this is a beauty to drink over the next decade or more." (99 pts. Robert Parker, Wine Advocate, Aug. 2015)
Estimate: $1,200-$1,500
Starting Bid: $950

474 Marcassin Chardonnay 2011
Marcassin Vineyard
Bottle (3)
"The 2011 is a great Chardonnay Marcassin Vineyard from a much-maligned and sometimes excessively criticized vintage. 2011 has its low points, but there are many producers who got it right, and survived the challenging growing and harvest conditions. This wine has phenomenal intensity, with plenty of crushed rock, pineapple, honeysuckle, orange and tangerine blossom in an elegant, medium to full-bodied style, with terrific intensity, good acidity and freshness." (97 pts. Robert Parker, Wine Advocate, Aug. 2015)

Clos des Papes, P. Avril
2012 1lnl Bottle (2)
2012 Magnum (3)
"Showing no bricking at all, the 2012 Chateauneuf du Pape is in its early maturity. There's a lovely mushroomy savoriness layered against black cherries and cola, earth and spice. Full-bodied, supple and almost creamy-plush in texture, it's ready to drink now yet should easily go another decade." (95 pts. Joe Czerwinski, Wine Advocate, Aug. 2019)
Estimate: $500-$700
Starting Bid: $375

479 Sassicaia 2016
Tenuta San Guido
owc
Bottle (6)
"Tenuta San Guido's 2016 Bolgheri Sassicaia, a wine that earned a three-digit score upon release, is more closed at the moment, showing an intriguing evolution in the glass as it moves from timid to briefly expressive before settling back into a quieter phase. The bouquet reveals beautiful savory tones with an almost ferrous edge, gaining complexity with elegant citrus accents of bergamot and blood orange that give the wine added articulation. The palate is defined by a delicate touch of fruit sweetness followed by lasting freshness, delivering both poise and power. Produced in a classic, structured vintage on the estate's coastal Bolgheri vineyards, this is unquestionably an epic wine, though tasted alongside the 2021 and 2023 in this vertical, it yielded a narrow edge to those later vintages on this occasion." 1lnl, 5lscl
Bottle (6)
"The 2012 Opus One is a terrific choice for drinking now. Silky and beautifully perfumed, the 2012 is wonderfully open-knit in this tasting. The purity of the fruit is alluring. There's still a good bit of freshness, too. Naturally, the 2012 reflects the medium-bodied style that is typical of the year, but all the elements are very nicely balanced. Crushed red berry fruit, mint, rose petal, spice and blood orange linger." (95 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, May 2024)
Estimate: $1,500-$2,000
Starting Bid: $1,200

514 Opus One 2013
1nl, 6lscl
Bottle (6)
"Deep garnet colored, the 2013 Opus One needs a little swirling before exploding with preserved black and blue fruits—blueberry compote, blackberry pie and blackcurrant cordial—giving way to notes of unsmoked cigars, new leather, beef drippings and menthol with wafts of roasted rosemary and rose oil. Medium to full-bodied, the palate is both powerful and ethereal, charged with energy and backed up by profound black fruits, supported with plush tannins and seamless freshness, finishing very long and beautifully perfumed." Bottle (2)
"Saturated ruby-red. Brilliant nose features kirsch, dark berries, and iron scents, with an overlay of perfumed, spicy oak. Lush, sweet and fragrant in the mouth, with a sappy freshness; clearly made from low yields. Finishes with toothcoating but suave tannins and remarkable persistence; stains the palate with spicy bitter cherry and citric skin flavor." (94+ pts. Stephen Tanzer, Vinous, May 1996)
Estimate: $3,000-$4,000
Starting Bid: $2,400

Bordeaux from Westchester

Bordeaux takes center stage in this offering from a Westchester, New York collector. The appeal here is straightforward: a fine selection from a region that continues to anchor so many of the cellars we have the pleasure of bringing to auction. For those looking to replenish their Bordeaux holdings or find something for the dinner table, these lots merit attention. All wines were maintained in professional wine storage.

"The 1983 is among the most concentrated wines from this property over the last 20 years, with a staggering display of extract and a mind-boggling amount of glycerin...At present, the 1983 is enormous, with huge, honeyed, pineapple, coconut, and caramel flavors, massive extract, and an unctuous quality barely framed by acidity and new oak." (96 pts. Robert Parker, Bordeaux Book 3rd Ed., Jan. 1998)
Estimate: $950-$1,300
Starting Bid: $750

Sauternes
3ts, 4vhs, 5lbsl, 3lscl, 3lwisl, 3sdc, 7 amber color, different importers
Bottle (7)
"There is no other wine in the world like it, and there is no other luxury wine that can possibly justify its price as much as Yquem. The remarkable amount of painstaking labor necessary to produce the nectar known as Yquem is almost impossible to comprehend. This is a fascinating effort. With greater evidence of botrytis than the colossal 1983, but less power and alcohol, the 1986 Yquem tastes reminiscent of the 1975, only more precocious, as well as more concentrated. Several highly respected Bordeaux negociants who are Yquem enthusiasts claim the 1986 Yquem is the greatest wine produced at the property since the legendary 1937. Its enthralling bouquet of pineapples, sauteed hazelnuts, vanillin, and ripe apricots is breathtaking. Compellingly concentrated, the breadth as well as depth of flavor seemingly know no limits. This full-bodied, powerful, yet impeccably balanced Yquem should provide memorable drinking for 40-55 more years." (98 pts. Robert Parker, Bordeaux Book 3rd Ed., Jan. 1998)
Estimate: $1,900-$2,600
Starting Bid: $1,500

A Garden State Legacy

This small collection comes from a family with deep roots in New Jersey's public life, whose legacy includes a governorship and the founding of a university. We are pleased to bring these bottles to auction, offering bidders a chance to acquire selections from a cellar with a distinctive Garden State connection. All wines were stored professionally in a temperature-controlled facility.

549 Chateau Pichon Baron 2020
Pauillac
2lscl
Bottle (12)
"The brilliant 2020 Pichon-Longueville Baron offers up inviting aromas of sweet berries and cassis mingled with pipe tobacco, loamy soil, pencil shavings and licorice. Medium to full-bodied, deep and layered, its velvety attack segues into a concentrated mid-palate that's framed by rich, powdery tannins, concluding with a long, vibrant finish. A blend of 76% Cabernet Sauvignon and 24% Merlot, it's a true classic that's a touch less demonstrative out of the gates than the sensual 2019, but which in the fullness of time will prove every bit as good." (97 pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, April 2023)
Estimate: $1,100-$1,400
Starting Bid: $850

550 Caymus Cabernet Sauvignon 2022

555 Dominus Estate 2020
Bottle (12)
"An excellent wine, even if not a great Dominus, the 2020 Dominus delivers waves of dark fruit—think predominantly cassis. A blend of 95% Cabernet Sauvignon and 5% Cabernet Franc, it's full-bodied and richly textured, perhaps a bit warm and open-knit because of the summer's heat, but with a long, velvety finish attractively tinged with mocha and dark chocolate." (95 pts. Joe Czerwinski, Wine Advocate, June 2023)
Estimate: $1,800-$2,400
Starting Bid: $1,400

556 Hall Cabernet Sauvignon 2019
Jack's Masterpiece
Bottle (12)
"Blended to be a more robust, mountain-driven counterpart to the Kathryn Hall bottling, the 2019 Cabernet Sauvignon Jack's Masterpiece blends fruit from Mount Veeder, Atlas Peak, Sacrashe and Montagne. Aged in 75% new French oak (mostly Taransaud), it delivers scents of cassis, herbal shadings like bay leaf and sage, cedar, dark chocolate and vanilla. It's full-bodied, firm but ripe and velvety, then shows more of a silky, dusty edge on the finish." (96 pts. Joe Czerwinski, Wine Advocate, Sept. 2022)

Kathryn Hall, Napa Valley
2lscl
Bottle (12)
"The 2021 Cabernet Sauvignon Kathryn Hall is built on a core of the best blocks at Sacrashe. It offers up copious red-toned fruit mixed with sweet spice, floral notes and mocha overtones. As is typically the case, the Kathryn Hall is one of the more aromatic wines in the range." (94 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, May 2024)
Estimate: $1,200-$1,500
Starting Bid: $950

560 Hall Cabernet Sauvignon 2022
Kathryn Hall, Napa Valley
1lnl
Bottle (12)
"A blend anchored by the winery's Sacrashe Vineyard, the 2022 Cabernet Sauvignon Kathryn Hall features scents of cinnamon, cedar, ripe cherries and some dusty-loam notes. It's full-bodied, lush, soft and expansive, adding in a touch of vanilla on the softly dusty finish. It's delicious but shows a bit less individualistic character than the Hall wines from Stags Leap and Diamond Mountain districts." (92 pts. Joe Czerwinski, Wine Advocate, Feb. 2025)

562 Lail Vineyards Cabernet Sauvignon 2021
J. Daniel Cuvee
1lscl, 6 in ocb
Bottle (11)
"Lail's 2021 J. Daniel Cuvée Cabernet Sauvignon blends lots from several high-end vineyards, including Heimark (Calistoga), Vine Hill Ranch (Oakville) and Steltzner (Stags Leap), plus Lail's own Mole Hill on Howell Mountain. It's an exciting wine, starting from the pulse-quickening aromas of raspberries and black cherries tinged with dark chocolate. In the mouth, this full-bodied beauty is richly concentrated, with a sensuous texture somewhere between silky and velvety, while the softly dusty finish shows terrific length and a spine-tingling hint of licorice. To reduce this wine to deceptively simple yet hard-to-pin-down words, it's complex, harmonious and elegant, yet it's enough of its place that it could only come from Napa Valley." (100 pts. Joe Czerwinski, Wine Advocate, Jan. 2024)

566 Perchance Cabernet Sauvignon 2022
Beckstoffer, Georges III Vineyard
1ltsl, 2ocb
Bottle (12)
"Once again, I appear to have underestimated a G3 wine from barrel (readers might recall that I upgraded my rating of the 2021 version of this wine after bottling as well). Now bottled, Perchance's 2022 Cabernet Sauvignon Beckstoffer Vineyard Georges III delivers a gorgeous mix of ripe cherries, softly dusty earth and gentle dried spice elements. It's full-bodied, supple and rich without being heavy, with a long, mouthwatering finish. According to winemaker Mike Smith, this vineyard's irrigation and misters allowed it to sail through the September heat wave." (97 pts. Joe Czerwinski, Wine Advocate, Oct. 2024)
Estimate: $1,200-$1,500
Starting Bid: $950

567 Spottswoode Cabernet Sauvignon 2021
Bottle (12)
"Slated for a September 2024 release, Spottswoode's 2021 Cabernet Sauvignon comes across as more vibrant, floral and fresh than the 2020. Violet and cassis notes are accented by hints of crushed stone and pencil shavings on the nose. Hugely complex yet harmonious, this medium-bodied effort is firm but silky in feel, with a long, elegant finish. Lovely stuff." (98+ pts. Joe Czerwinski, Wine Advocate, July 2024)

The Pinnacle Collection: A Continued Offering

Returning later in this sale, The Pinnacle Collection presents another exceptional selection from some of the world's most celebrated estates. Previously featured in Heritage's 2025 and 2026 auctions, this distinguished collection was assembled over decades, with wines acquired directly from the wineries through longstanding relationships.

Maintained in professional temperature- and humidity-controlled storage before delivery directly to Heritage, these wines reflect the same meticulous care and impeccable provenance that have defined the collection. As the accompanying condition notes attest, many bottles and original cases remain in pristine condition, offering collectors another opportunity to acquire wines of exceptional pedigree from this remarkable cellar.

573 Chateau Cantenac Brown 2020
Margaux
owc
Bottle (12)
"A fine follow-up to the excellent 2019, the 2020 Cantenac Brown incorporates newly acquired holdings of Cabernet Sauvignon from the plateau of Margaux. Unwinding in the glass with aromas of cherries, cassis, burning embers and pencil shavings, it's medium to full-bodied, layered and concentrated, with good depth at the core, supple tannins and terrific purity of fruit. Concluding with a long, penetrating finish, it underlines the fact that this is the appellation's fastest-improving estate." (94+ pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, April 2023)
Estimate: $450-$550
Starting Bid: $350

574 Chateau Duhart Milon 2023
Pauillac
2owc
Bottle (12)
"The 2023 Duhart-Milon is showing very well from bottle, wafting from the glass with notes of cassis, violets, orange zest and exotic spices. Medium- to full-bodied, layered and velvety, it's supple and charming, with sweet tannins and a seamless profile that reflects the restructuring and viticultural efforts that have been underway at this estate for some time now. Long and sapid, it's a blend of 80% Cabernet Sauvignon and 20% Merlot that was picked late, between September 25 and October 3." (94 pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, April 2026)
Estimate: $550-$750
Starting Bid: $425

575 Chateau Duhart Milon 2023
Pauillac
2owc
Bottle (12)
"The 2023 Duhart-Milon is quite the powerhouse. A blast of dark-toned fruit, chocolate, spice, new leather, incense, licorice and dried herbs all stain the palate. This is an especially dense Duhart that really explodes on the back end. This is a big, big wine." (94 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, March 2026)
Estimate: $550-$750
Starting Bid: $425

576 Chateau Gazin 2017
Pomerol
owc
Magnum (6)
"Dark ruby in colour, with inky depths to this wine. This is a pretty classic Gazin, with a Left Bank dark fruit feel. They have done a good job of getting fruit definition and character, with spicy black pepper notes and firm tannins. This is another contender for a wine that you would not pick out as being a 2017, it has depth to the fruit and feels like it needs longer to settle into itself. Much improved over ageing." (91 pts. Jane Anson, Decanter, Sept. 2019)
Estimate: $700-$900
Starting Bid: $550

577 Chateau Gazin 2017
Pomerol
owc
Magnum (6)
"Deep garnet-purple in color, the 2017 Gazin has a beautifully fragrant nose of potpourri, chocolate-covered cherries and spiced mulberries with a core of warm plums and cherry cordial plus a waft of wild blueberries. Medium to full-bodied, the palate has a firm frame of ripe, rounded tannins and seamless freshness, finishing long and earthy." (93+ pts. Lisa Perrotti-Brown, Wine Advocate, March 2020)
Estimate: $700-$900
Starting Bid: $550

578 Chateau Gazin 2017
Pomerol
owc
Magnum (6)
"Blueberry and plum aromas here with some flowers and hot stones, too. Complex. Medium body. Juicy fruit in the center palate. Soft, refined tannins and fresh acidity. Lovely complexity and focus." (94 pts. James Suckling, Dec. 2019)
Estimate: $700-$900
Starting Bid: $550

579 Chateau Gazin 2017
Pomerol
owc
Magnum (6)
"The 2017 Gazin has a detailed and well defined bouquet: scents of blackberry, undergrowth, black truffle and a touch of lavender gently unfold with aeration. The palate is medium-bodied with supple tannins. There is a fine bead of acidity here, classic in style with tertiary, slightly ferrous notes towards the harmonious and persistent finish. Multiple showings evince a Pomerol that is improving day-by-day in bottle, manifesting more sophistication and harmony." (92 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, Sept. 2019)
Estimate: $700-$900
Starting Bid: $550

580 Chateau Gazin 2017
Pomerol
owc
Magnum (6)
"Powerful and lush, the 2017 Gazin is super-expressive and inviting. Leather, spice, cedar, menthol and dried herbs give the 2017 a very pretty, earthy character that works quite well. The 2017 builds nicely in the glass, showing terrific persistence and plenty of character. It will be even better once the tannins soften a touch. Tasted three times." (92 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Dec. 2020)
Estimate: $700-$900
Starting Bid: $550

581 Chateau Gazin 2020
Pomerol
owc
Bottle (12)
"The 2020 Gazin is a wine of total precision and class. Vibrant, with tremendous nuance, the 2020 is so impressive. Dark red cherry, iron, tobacco, white pepper and crushed flowers abound. The 2020 is a standout Gazin." (95 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Dec. 2022)
Estimate: $600-$800
Starting Bid: $475

582 Chateau Gazin 2020
Pomerol
owc
Bottle (12)
"A muscular, youthfully structured wine, the 2020 Gazin unwinds in the glass with aromas of dark berries, cherries, vine smoke, spices and licorice. Medium to full-bodied, layered and concentrated, it's deep and powerful, with ample reserves of powdery tannin that will require a bit of patience in bottle." (93+ pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, April 2023)
Estimate: $600-$800
Starting Bid: $475

Lot 428

583 Chateau Gazin 2021
Pomerol
owc
Bottle (12)
"The 2021 Gazin is a dark, ample wine. Layers of dark fruit, leather, licorice, smoke, tobacco and spice unfurl in the glass. Broad and powerful, the 2021 is super-impressive in this tasting. If there is a name to watch in Pomerol, it is Gazin." (95 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Dec. 2023)
Estimate: $600-$800
Starting Bid: $475

584 Chateau Gazin 2021
Pomerol
owc
Bottle (12)
"Black berries and black plums on the nose with some tobacco leaf, graphite and bitter chocolate. It's focused on the palate, with firm tannins that melt and relax into the black fruit. Medium-bodied and well-structured. Mineral at the end." (94 pts. Claire Nesbitt, James Suckling, Nov. 2023)
Estimate: $600-$800
Starting Bid: $475

585 Chateau Gazin 2021
Pomerol
owc
Bottle (12)
"This is lifted, bright and high toned. There's some energy here with tannins that are fine but have bite and tang and support the expression and coat the mouth in grippy saltiness. A good effort this year, not trying too hard. Mouthwatering but cool and crisp with a lovely weight and frame and flavours of blueberry, liquorice, flint and dried herbs." (92 pts. Georgina Hindle, Decanter, Nov. 2023)
Estimate: $600-$800
Starting Bid: $475

586 Chateau Gazin 2021
Pomerol
owc
Bottle (12)
"Tomato leaf and subtle campfire smoke on the aromatics, bright medium intensity ruby red colour, this starts off well with red cherry and raspberry fruits but rose stem, anis and tannic grip keep things on austere. On the serious side, but that is entirely within the house style of this classical Pomerol estate." (91 pts. Jane Anson, Dec. 2023)
Estimate: $600-$800
Starting Bid: $475

587 Chateau Gazin 2021
Pomerol
owc
Bottle (12)
"The 2021 Gazin has a well-defined bouquet with slightly earthy black fruit, touches of tobacco and graphite coming through with time—not powerful, but there is nice cohesion here. The palate is medium-bodied with a graphite-infused entry. The 2021 is light on its feet, a nimble Pomerol with a fresh, sapid, seaweed-tinged finish. It's worth seeking out for those in search traditional Bordeaux, albeit not a long-term runner." (90 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, Nov. 2023)
Estimate: $600-$800
Starting Bid: $475

588 Chateau Gazin 2022
Pomerol
owc
Bottle (12)
"The 2022 Gazin is bright, punchy and focused. Beams of tannin confer a feeling of classicism that is palpable throughout. Dark blue/purplish fruit, crushed rocks, slate, menthol and graphite are all beautifully delineated. Power and finesse come alive in this distinguished, mid-weight Pomerol." (95 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Jan. 2025)
Estimate: $700-$900
Starting Bid: $550

589 Chateau Gazin 2022
Pomerol
owc
Bottle (12)
"Energy and purity straight away, this is streamlined and focussed with crisp strawberry, juicy cherry and cool blueberry fruit. I like the density and precision to the tannins — they give both a weight and sense of sculpting with a real sense of freshness all the way through. Spiced accents come in the form of liquorice and slate but this remains really quite charming and friendly with fruit purity." (94 pts. Georgina Hindle, Decanter, Jan. 2025)
Estimate: $700-$900
Starting Bid: $550

590 Chateau Gazin 2023
Pomerol
owc
Bottle (12)
"The 2023 Gazin shows better today than it did en primeur. It's a powerful, bold wine, that much is obvious. But there's also an element of classicism that is quite attractive. Dark red cherry/plum fruit, blood orange, white pepper and mint open gradually in the glass. There's quite a bit of potential here. I look forward to seeing how this ages." (94 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, March 2026)
Estimate: $600-$800
Starting Bid: $475

591 Chateau Gazin 2023
Pomerol
owc
Bottle (12)
"The subtle tension to this classic wine is impressive. Aromas of blueberries, minerals and hints of hazelnuts and bark. A medium-bodied palate with fine tannins and a caressing and polished texture. 88% merlot, 7% cabernet franc and 5% cabernet sauvignon." (95 pts. James Suckling, Dec. 2025)
Estimate: $600-$800
Starting Bid: $475

592 Chateau Gazin 2023
Pomerol
owc
Bottle (12)
"Dark and oak tinged nose. Cool and fresh, yummy but quite underrated with a serious tone - crisp fruit, not overly acidic with firm tannins and a cool, fresh undercurrent. Feels sleek and elegant, with a mouthwatering core but quite a structured frame overall. A dark horse this one." (94 pts. Georgina Hindle, Decanter, Jan. 2026)
Estimate: $600-$800
Starting Bid: $475

593 Chateau Gazin 2023
Pomerol
owc
Bottle (12)
"One of those benchmark estates that rise above the individual character of the year, imposing their own personality that remains true to itself. Good texture here, enjoyable depth and balance, peony floral character, cocoa bean and slate, with tannins that give sinew and tension to the palate. Good stuff, will age." (94 pts. Jane Anson, April 2024)
Estimate: $600-$800
Starting Bid: $475

"A blend of 89% Merlot, 7% Cabernet Franc and 4% Cabernet Sauvignon, the 2023 Gazin has evolved positively since the en primeur tastings, revealing a more expressive and approachable bouquet than initially anticipated, with aromas of dark berries, rose, cassis and dark cherries. Medium- to full-bodied, round and layered, it is built around a fleshy core of fruit framed by powdery tannins, concluding with a long, ethereal finish. Quite dense and well structured, it has the substance to reward extended cellaring." (93 pts. Yohan Castaing, Wine Advocate, April 2026)

"The 2021 Grand-Puy-Lacoste is one of the vintage's successes, wafting from the glass with aromas of cassis and raspberries mingled with notions of violets, rose petals, pencil shavings and cigar wrapper. Medium to full-bodied, with a deep, layered core of pure fruit framed by ripe acids and sweet tannins, its suave, charming profile means that it will offer a broad drinking window. A slightly lower percentage of new oak, with lighter toasts, is reflected in better barrel integration out of the gates." (94 pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, Feb. 2024)

"Guillot Clauzel is one of the most intriguing Pomerols I tasted this year. The 2018 is soft, pliant and wonderfully inviting. Blueberry fruit, sage, mint and lavender are all nicely lifted. Fresh, silky and open-knit, the 2018 will drink well right out of the gate. This is certainly an auspicious debut for Guillot Clauzel under the stewardship of Guillaume Thienpont. It will be interesting to see if Thienpont can coax a little more complexity from this site in the coming years. For now, the 2018 is certainly an impressive start. The blend is 75% Merlot and 25% Cabernet Franc." (90–93 pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, April 2019)

"Dark and brooding, you can smell the heat from the vintage in the dark ripe fruits. Concentrated and intense straight away, but also really quite lively on the palate which shows a chewy and crunchy fruit profile. Acidity matches the crushed velvet tannins that settle on the tongue and mouth. Plush and dense. I love the extra ripeness you get here that stays on the right side of being too much. Lovely weight and depth. It's slightly more bold and confident, but also just a lot of fun, maybe loses some detail because of the plushness, but there's a real vein of cool classic touches with the terroir markers that keep it refined. Liquorice and mint on the end. Juicy, fun and long. Needs a bit more time. I love the red fruit elements, though, and the density." (94 pts. Georgina Hindle, Decanter, Jan. 2023)

"The 2017 Malescot Saint Exupéry has really come together nicely over the course of its élevage. In this vintage, Malescot is a bit more fruity and less structured than it has been. Cedar, licorice, dried herbs, menthol and scorched earth notes give the 2017 a distinctly savory feel to match its somber, virile personality. The 2017 is a wine that keeps getting better each time I taste it, and that makes me very hopeful for the future; it will be interesting to see what happens here with aging, and, specifically, if a bit more structure emerges. This is a wine of great personality and character." (93+ pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Dec. 2019)

Bottle (12)
"A sensational Troplong. Vibrant and vivid, this makes you smile from the first smell: milk chocolate, floral notes of roses and lavender, wet stones, liquorice, cinnamon and ripe bramble fruits. Round and thrilling on the palate, tannins are abundant with a chalky blueberry coolness while a salty tang settles around the mouth. Lovely precision and purity of fruit; you feel the sharp definition — still linear which makes it less immediately charming than the 2019 but giving undeniable complexity. Deep but not heady, this remains pure and detailed, with a leanness from the terroir really setting this apart. After a few minutes, the glamour starts to appear giving a salivating, succulent and moreish aspect to the finish. An absolute beauty." (100 pts. Georgina Hindle, Decanter, Jan. 2023)

"The 2020 Troplong Mondot may prove to be even better than the brilliant 2019, and it is one of the Right Bank's finest wines in this vintage. Unwinding in the glass with deep aromas of mulberries, blackberries and red cherries mingled with hints of rose petal, licorice and exotic spices, it's medium to full-bodied, deep and layered, with a satiny attack that segues into a vibrant, polished mid-palate, concluding with a long, resonant finish. Having seen only 65% new oak and with malolactic fermentation completed in tank rather than in barrel, it's remarkably pure and seamless. With the 2020 vintage, this estate's stylistic redemption appears to be complete." (98+ pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, April 2023)

"The 2020 Troplong Mondot is fabulous. Rich, dark and expansive, the 2020 is wonderfully exuberant right out of the gate. Black cherry, plum, gravel, incense and licorice are all dialed up. There's tremendous breadth and power, but without the excess weight of the past. Even so, the 2020 is a big, big wine that needs the better part of a decade to soften. All the classic Troplong structure is there, but buffered by vibrant acids and tons of supporting minerality. Harvest started on September 5 and finished on October 8, a very wide window for the Right Bank, and a reminder of how different the parcels are. "The 2020 Troplong Mondot has a limpid dark hue. The bouquet is intense with black cherries, red plum, Earl Grey and very subtle floral scents, a mixture of peony and violet. The palate is medium-bodied with very pliant tannins, fine acidity, taut and fresh. With moderate depth, this Troplong possesses impressive salinity, a little powdery texture towards the finish, with a gentle but insistent grip. Black fruit dominates here, chalky and terroir-driven, so you can feel the terroir tingling on the aftertaste. 637 Domaine de Chevalier 2021
Pessac-Leognan
2 banded owc
Bottle (12)
"The 2021 Domaine de Chevalier reveals a deep, complex bouquet with aromas of blackberries and blueberries mingled with spices, cigar wrapper and coniferous forest floor, followed by a medium to full-bodied, sweet and concentrated palate animated by bright acids and framed by fine, powdery tannins. It's an impressive effort that will reward a bit of bottle age. It's a blend of 60% Cabernet Sauvignon, 25% Merlot, 10% Petit Verdot and 5% Cabernet Franc." (94+ pts. Yohan Castaing, Wine Advocate, Feb. 2024)
Estimate: $475-$600
Starting Bid: $375

638 Domaine de Chevalier 2021
Pessac-Leognan
2 banded owc
Bottle (12)
"The 2021 Domaine de Chevalier comes across as quite shy and reticent in this vintage. The aromatics are beguiling, but on the palate, the wine feels a bit strict and clamped down. Crushed flowers, sweet red-toned fruit, spice, mint and blood orange emerge, but only with great reluctance. It will be interesting to see how the 2021 develops over time. Tasted twice." (94+ pts. Antonio Galloni, Vinous, Dec. 2023)
Estimate: $475-$600
Starting Bid: $375

639 Chablis 2022
Fourchaume, W. Fevre
2ocb
Bottle (12)
"The domaine's 2022 Chablis 1er Cru Fourchaume, a parcel selection in Vaulorent, opens in the glass with notes of sweet citrus fruit, white flowers and oyster shell, followed by a medium to full-bodied, ample and pillowy palate that's cool and fleshy, concluding with a saline finish." (93 pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, March 2025)
Estimate: $500-$700
Starting Bid: $400

641 Chablis 2024
Montee de Tonnerre, W. Fevre
2ocb
Bottle (12)
"This is also wonderfully elegant and expressive with its ripe yet cool nose of seemingly every flower imaginable as there is even a hint of gardenia, along with a plenitude of classic Chablis elements. The rich, suave and caressing medium-bodied flavors possess good verve and evident minerality on the youthfully austere and sneaky long finish. This is really very classy though it will definitely need to add depth to merit the upper end of my projected range." (91–93 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Oct. 2025)
Estimate: $700-$900
Starting Bid: $550

642 Chablis 2024
Montee de Tonnerre, W. Fevre
2ocb
Bottle (12)
"The 2024 Chablis Montée de Tonnerre 1er Cru is not dissimilar on the nose to Les Lys this year. It's airy with apple blossom, hints of yellow fruit and honeysuckle opening nicely in the glass. The palate is very well balanced with fine poise and weight. This is a little Vaillon-like in terms of generosity but spicier, with traces of lemongrass on the aftertaste. The 2024 is excellent." (91–93 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, June 2025)
Estimate: $700-$900
Starting Bid: $550

643 Chablis 2023
Montmains, W. Fevre
2ocb
Bottle (12)
"An exuberantly fresh nose speaks of mineral reduction, prominent floral, oyster shell and essence of pear scents. There is again solid volume and richness to the seductively textured middle weight flavors that possess just a bit more finishing verve as well as more evident minerality. Here too there is a touch of warmth but it's not really enough to materially impair the overall sense of balance." (88–91 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Oct. 2024)
Estimate: $475-$600
Starting Bid: $375

644 Chablis 2023
Montmains, W. Fevre
2ocb
Bottle (12)
"Sourced from a large 3.8-hectare south- and southeast-facing site, where individual parcels are harvested and vinified separately, the 2023 Chablis 1er Cru Montmains reveals aromas of Granny Smith apple, jasmine, pear and oyster shell. Medium- to full-bodied, the palate is taut and racy, concluding with a saline finish." (91 pts. Kristaps Karklins, Wine Advocate, Jan. 2026)
Estimate: $475-$600
Starting Bid: $375

645 Chablis 2022
Vaillons, W. Fevre
2ocb
Bottle (12)
"This is also aromatically cool and almost as reticent with its airy aromas of white pepper, mineral reduction, essence of pear and a suggestion of wood influence. The gorgeously textured medium weight flavors possess an even more developed sense of refinement while exhibiting fine length on the quinine, stony and bitter lemon zest-suffused finale. This is lovely and a Vaillons of finesse in 2022." (90–93 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Aug. 2023)
Estimate: $500-$700
Starting Bid: $400

646 Chablis 2022
Vaillons, W. Fevre
2ocb
Bottle (12)
"Delivering scents of orange oil, white flowers and oyster shell, the 2022 Chablis 1er Cru Vaillons is medium to full-bodied, satiny and suave, with racy acids and a saline finish, showing little trace of the hot, sunny vintage. As usual, it's derived from old vines in Les Minots (that are a source for the Fèvre massal selection), as well as holdings in Roncières and Chatains." (93 pts. William Kelley, Wine Advocate, March 2025)
Estimate: $500-$700
Starting Bid: $400

647 Chablis 2024
Vaillons, W. Fevre
2ocb
Bottle (12)
"Cool, airy and beautifully layered aromas of white pepper, lemon zest, quinine and an array of floral wisps serve as an elegant introduction to the dense, overtly stony and vibrant middle weight flavors that possess first-rate cut and excellent length on the lightly bitter citrus-inflected finale. This is lovely and while it could use better depth, the balance is impeccable." (90–93 pts. Allen Meadows, Burghound, Oct. 2025)
Estimate: $500-$700
Starting Bid: $400

648 Chablis 2024
Vaillons, W. Fevre
2ocb
Bottle (12)
"The 2024 Chablis Vaillons 1er Cru has a more neutral bouquet compared to the Montmains. This is citrusy and fresh, though it needs just a little more vigor. The palate is brisk on the entry and quite sapid, with a very linear, malic finish. It could use a bit more weight and grip." (89–91 pts. Neal Martin, Vinous, June 2025)
Estimate: $500-$700
Starting Bid: $400
